Solons Hopeful, Skeptical About LBJ's Viet Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's optimistic report that preparations for elections in South Viet Nam are moving in a sound direction aroused both hope and skepticism in Congress Thursday.

Johnson told a news conference Wednesday that "while there will be missteps, the direction is sound" toward voting aimed at installing a civilian regime to replace the military government in Saigon.

Senatorial critics and supporters of the President's Viet Nam policies joined in expressing hope that Johnson was right in saying that with "reasonable unity and proper diligence and constant regard for our nations interest, we will achieve our objectives here — at home — and there in Viet Nam."

Among those willing to speak out, however, none found quite as much encouragement as Johnson said he did by the progress of a special Vietnamese committee preparing for the election of a constitutional assembly.

Armed Services Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who supports Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said he thinks "some progress has been made but just how substantial is will be determined by future events."

"It is exceedingly difficult to have a fair expression of the country's sentiment under the conditions that exist," he said.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., a foreign relations committee member who has criticized Johnson's course, said in a separate interview "I hope he's right."

"But I think we are in serious trouble not only in Viet Nam but all over the world," he added.

Johnson covered a wide variety of subjects in his Cabinet room meeting with reporters, including an expression of satisfaction with the course of the national economy and the pace with which Congress is dealing with his legislative programs.

On other matters, he: —Complained that he doesn't see in the newspapers the kind of "in depth reporting" he would like to have on political progress in South Viet Nam.

—Said he rather agrees with the view of Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen that leaders of both parties should be briefed on Viet Nam developments. He said he had talked to Dirksen twice in the last few weeks.

—Reported that the U. S. program of dealing with France's forthcoming withdrawal of troops from NATO "is going very well and as expected and according to schedule."

—Classified the civil rights situation as one "we think desperately needs attention."

He pledged "to give my days and such talents as I have been given, to the pursuit of justice and opportunity for those so long denied that."

Johnson's unannounced appearance at the conference was seen by many delegates as a morale booster to an event that had limped from the starting line in a welter of parliamentary squabbling.

Hue Buddhists Give In to Ky Regime

Premier Appears To Have Won in Latest Crisis

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's troops took over the Buddhist stronghold of Hue today without any resistance from the Buddhist-led mobs and antigovernment troops that have held the northern city in open rebellion since mid-March.

The junta's forces seized Hue's radio station and other strongpoints in the city 400 miles northeast of Saigon today after the ruling generals came to a political agreement with their Buddhist opponents in Saigon.

Hue was the last territorial stronghold of the antigovernment forces. Its recapture was a major victory for Ky, who has managed to stay in power with the support of his fellow generals and the United States mounted against him by the Buddhists.

After weeks of street disturbances by Buddhist youths, Saigon took an unnaturally calm look. However, some radical Buddhist elements protested the Buddhist-government compromise.

New Cancer Gains Seen By Scientists

CHICAGO (AP) — Two findings that open a new approach toward the elusive goal of finding the cause and prevention of cancer were disclosed today by a medical research team from Columbia University.

The researchers presented the strongest tentative evidence yet that cancers may be started by viruses which then move on to repeat their destructive work in adjoining cells.

Dr. John K. Lattimer, co-chairman of the department of urology at Columbia University in New York, said that virus-like particles have been found for the first time in healthy looking cells lying adjacent to cancer cells in prostate glands. They were not found in the cancer cells.

He said his researchers also discovered that these cells, which appeared normal under ordinary-light microscopes, actually were growing at the "same tremendous rate" as cancer cells.

"The discovery of either condition was unusual, but when they appear in combination it becomes exciting," he said in an interview at the annual meeting of the American Urological Association.

Indonesia-Malaysia Peace Said Achieved

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Deputy Premier Tunku Abdul Razak announced today that Indonesia has accepted Malaysia as sovereign state and peace between the two Southeast Asian neighbors has been achieved.

Razak said Kuala Lumpur and Jakarta soon will exchange missions entrusted with the job of working out the details of the peace agreement reached by him and Foreign Minister Adam Malik of Indonesia in Bangkok Wednesday.

Thermometer readings were also low in large sections of the South. Temperatures were in the 40s in North Carolina and the north half of Georgia and in the 50s in parts of northern Florida.

Police said he died of a head wound and a discharged single-barreled shotgun was between his knees.

A friend said the author had not been in good health recently and had been depressed.

Another Gemini Try Slated Friday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Dramatically successful with the unmanned Surveyor moonship, but seemingly jinxed in getting men off the ground, space officials felt confident today that Gemini 9's two dismayed astronauts finally will rocket skyward Friday.

Twice, Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan have donned their flashy space suits and climbed aboard their waiting spaceship; but, twice they've gloomily taken the slow elevator ride back to the ground.

They get another chance Friday at 9:39 a.m. (EDT) to set out on their 70 hour flight, including satellite rendezvous and 2½-hour space walk after a frustrating two-day delay.

Engineers pinned the blame for the scrubbed Gemini 9 flight Wednesday on a faulty signal relay system. It kept a guidance command from reaching a black box for electronic translation to the spacecraft.

Faulty parts were replaced and preliminary tests indicated the problem had been solved.

However, flight officials still aren't certain a protective shroud around the docking apparatus on one end of the stubby, bottle-shaped line-up target separated as planned once in orbit.

The target, known as an Augmented Target Docking Adapter, blasted off a Cape Kennedy launch pad less than two hours before trouble struck Gemini 9. It continued to circle the earth, performing normally.

Radio signals from the target satellite to earth indicated the shroud did not separate from the ATDA.

But, it may be that no one will know for sure if the mysterious objects, now unidentified, are indeed pieces of the shroud until the astronauts go up and take a look for themselves.

Surveyor Sends Back Photos of Lunar Surface

Pictures Indicate Landscape Is Smooth, Hard

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 1, defying longshot odds against a first-try success, televised earthward today striking photos of the lunar landscape after a seemingly perfect gentle landing on the moon.

The pictures indicated to scientific viewers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory that the Sea of Storms target area has a relatively smooth, hard surface apparently suitable as a possible descent point for future astronauts.

More than 600 pictures were taken the first round. The camera was shut down when the earth's rotation blocked signals to receiving points. Picture transmission is to resume at 11:30 p.m.

The successful touch-down, executed precisely as programmed, was viewed as a long stride forward for the United States' Apollo lunar exploration program. Surveyor's rocket braking system is similar to that on the craft astronauts will use for a landing later in the decade.

A picture series beginning at 5:45 a.m. EDT, using a different TV screen system than that of two earlier batches, showed a broad plain devoid of major features, peppered with either pebbles or pits caused by meteorites. There were several small prominences, and some gouging, as if the surface had been struck by objects from space at an angle.

The pictures showed no damage to the spidery, instrument-jammed, craft 10 feet high and 14 feet in diameter. They showed its feet resting atop the crust — important evidence in view of opinions of some scientists that the surface might be deep dust or spongy lava that could swallow a landing vehicle.

The 620-pound Surveyor plant-lunar crust at 2:17:37 a.m. EDT, 63 hours and a quarter-million miles after its launch Monday from Cape Kennedy.

Its crucial terminal sequence — a cartwheel in space to point its feet moonward, then at 60 miles out a blast from its powerful retro-rocket engine to slow to landing speed of 8 m.p.h. — ended with all instruments apparently functioning.

Thirty-five minutes later, it began televising pictures sent nationwide and overseas by three networks, employing the Early Bird satellite.

The first batch of three showed a leg and other portions, with the lunar surface in the background.

There was nothing to hint of danger to future manned landing craft.

A second batch of 10 showed more distant terrain — flat and featureless, except for a shadow, apparently that of the spacecraft, in the shape of a three, and what appeared to be a large rock.

The first two series, televised with 200 scan lines compared to 525 for a home screen, were dim and fuzzy and difficult to interpret.

Later shots with 600 scan lines — Surveyor is expected to return hundreds before the chill of the lunar night ends its life 12 days hence — were far clearer.

Some shots were expected to be better in quality, experts say, than the nine pictures sent back by the Soviet Union's Luna 9 last Feb. 3.

U.S. Flag Is Taken To Moon by Surveyor

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. spacecraft Surveyor 1 carried an American flag to the moon's surface today.

The 4-by-6-inch flag was purchased at a drugstore for 23 cents by Sheldon Shalton, chief surveyor project scientist for Hughes Aircraft Co., which built Surveyor.

Shalton said two Hughes engineers stuffed the flag inside the craft's tubular frame before it was launched Monday.

Balaguer Holds Edge in Poll

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — Conservative Joaquin Balaguer had a narrowing lead over Juan Bosch today in early returns from a Dominican presidential election which already has made history for the tormented little island nation.

At 4 a.m., with the count going slowly, scattered returns gave Balaguer 157,594 votes and Bosch 146,935. Earlier Balaguer's lead had been nearly 30,000 votes.

Rafael F. Bonelly, the third candidate who was never given a chance, was far behind.

In voting which foreign observers called astonishingly calm, orderly and fair, Balaguer drew expected strength from conservative rural areas. He also was running strong in cities where Bosch — deposed nine months after he was elected in 1962 — had his greatest support.

Early results were fragmentary. An atmosphere of jubilation pervaded Balaguer's headquarters. A spokesman in Bosch's camp admitted to some worry.

In Santo Domingo, where Bosch got more than 70 per cent of the vote in 1962, the vote in 96 of the 440 precincts was 26,012 for Bosch and 15,246 for Balaguer, indicating inroads into Bosch's chief strength.

Balaguer was leading 18,037 to 10,360 in 71 of the 226 precincts in Santiago, the nation's second city. In San Francisco de Macoris, Balaguer led 10,752 to 5,176.

Pre-election forecasts had generally favored Bosch in a tight race. The 57-year-old professor-politician's Dominican Revolutionary party had the support of leftist elements.

Bosch became the country's first democratically elected president by a landslide in 1962. Balaguer, vice president under dictator Rafael Trujillo was the candidate of the Reform party.

He served as president after Trujillo's assassination. The central issue in the election seemed to be the restoration of democratic rule in a nation which had only seven months of it in the last 36 years.

Low Temperature Records Are Set

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The advent of June has failed temperatures in much of the eastern and northern sections of the country.

Many low temperature records were broken in Ohio early today. The mercury plunged to 39 at the Canton, Ohio airport, breaking by one degree a record that had stood since 1905.

Thermometer readings were also low in large sections of the South. Temperatures were in the 40s in North Carolina and the north half of Georgia and in the 50s in parts of northern Florida.

Aircraft Plant Pushes Equal Opportunity Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In May of 1961 Lockheed Aircraft Corp. was first to sign for the federal government's equal opportunity employment program, aimed at finding jobs for minorities.

"We didn't wait for them to apply, we sought them out," says James Hodgso, director of industrial relations.

Result: Lockheed now reports that 6,500 of its 84,000 employees are members of minority groups — and among the 6,500 there are 2½ times as many in managerial or professional jobs than in unskilled or service work.

To help make its plans, Lockheed has a host of other things the firm goes after: Indians in Washington, Mexican-Americans in Arizona, Filipinos in California, Negroes in Georgia and Alabama.

It says 91 such employees are managers at $10,000 to $20,000 a year; 967 are scientists, engineers or accountants at $8,000 to $20,000, and 4,404 are in such skills as lathe operators, flight mechanics, carpenters, electricians, at $5,000 to $7,000.

Federal civil rights laws can be met by hiring service workers. Lockheed is one of 328 major firms joining voluntarily a federal "plan for progress" to recruit minority workers above the janitorial level.

How does it work?

Lockheed representatives go into minority living areas sometimes 20 miles from plants leaving job lists with ministers, slum-area employment offices and such organizations as the Urban League.

High school principals and counselors from slum schools are taken on tours of company facilities, told what's needed, what's available, and urged to spread the word.

Campus recruiters include such Negro colleges as Howard and Tuskegee Institute in their rounds.

Lockheed's industrial union, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, pushes a summer-long apprentice program for skill training. In Georgia the union has several Negro business agents.

Negroes Warned Against Miracles

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has cautioned Negroes not to expect presidential miracles in the struggle against racial injustice.

"No national government, however enlightened, can by itself change the conditions of Negro life in America," he told his White House Conference on Civil Rights Wednesday night.

But he brought the 2,400 delegates to their feet with the measured declaration that "we are moving — we shall not turn back."

He pledged "to give my days and such talents as I have been given, to the pursuit of justice and opportunity for those so long denied that."

Johnson's unannounced appearance at the conference was seen by many delegates as a morale booster to an event that had limped from the starting line in a welter of parliamentary squabbling.

Discussions of the planning council's 100 recommendations to bring the Negro into full equality in jobs, housing, education and justice resume today at a midtown hotel.

In the last few hours before the conference ends, delegates will have their hard-won chance to vote on the resolutions to be tacked onto the council recommendations in a report to the President.

It is here that the Viet Nam issue may be injected into the two-day conference for the first time. Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality has promised resolutions "dealing with the effect of the war in Viet Nam on the Negro in the ghetto."

"We have made mistakes," Johnson said in his soft-spoken address. "We will make others for we know our weaknesses. We will arouse hopes as we have already done that cannot be quickly fulfilled."

"Do not expect from me, or any man, a miracle. Do not expect us, even together to put right in one year or four all that took centuries to make wrong."

U.S., Soviet Ships Playing Game at Sea

ABOARD CARRIER ENTERPRISE, Off North Viet Nam (AP) — The Russians and the U. S. 7th Fleet are following each other around in the seas off Viet Nam.

The game is called "Comrade" by the Americans. It's played this way:

A Soviet fishing trawler, equipped with an unusual amount of radar, shows up a few miles from the 90,000-ton, nuclear-powered Enterprise.

Its mission, apart from fishing, is snooping.

It wants to find out how many planes are aboard the carrier, how many are launched each day for attacks against North Viet Nam and any other information.

When the trawler shows up, the word goes round the Enterprise: "Comrade is shadowing us again."

A few miles behind, however, the fast nuclear-powered missile frigate Bainbridge is shadowing the Soviet shadower.

U.S. Hammers North Viets

Massive Raids Last 3 Days

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. planes hammered North Viet Nam in massive raids for a third consecutive day, concentrating once again on antiaircraft and missile sites. They also made a spectacular strike on a 20-truck Communist supply convoy, U.S. military headquarters reported today.

The heavy air raids Wednesday were carried out at a cost of three more American planes, raising the number of U.S. aircraft shot down over North Viet Nam to 254. One pilot was rescued.

Six planes have been shot down by the Communists since Monday when a break in the weather enabled the United States to step up the air offensive against North Viet Nam.

U.S. ground forces in South Viet Nam made light, sporadic contact with the enemy Wednesday.

Drag Race Verdict Upset on Appeal

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putnam says he will appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court a ruling of the 5th District Court of Appeals reversing the second-degree murder convictions of two men charged in a drag racing death.

Anderson and Butler were convicted in the 1964 traffic death of Phillip Romano. It was charged that Anderson and Butler were drag racing when their cars became involved in a crash with Romano's automobile.

More than 600 pictures were taken the first round. The camera was shut down when the earth's rotation blocked signals to receiving points. Picture transmission is to resume at 11:30 p.m.

The successful touch-down, executed precisely as programmed, was viewed as a long stride forward for the United States' Apollo lunar exploration program. Surveyor's rocket braking system is similar to that on the craft astronauts will use for a landing later in the decade.

A picture series beginning at 5:45 a.m. EDT, using a different TV screen system than that of two earlier batches, showed a broad plain devoid of major features, peppered with either pebbles or pits caused by meteorites. There were several small prominences, and some gulling, as if the surface had been struck by objects from space at an angle.

The pictures showed no damage to the spidery, instrument-jammed, craft 10 feet high and 14 feet in diameter. They showed its feet resting atop the crust — important evidence in view of opinions of some scientists that the surface might be deep dust or spongy lava that could swallow a landing vehicle.

The 620-pound Surveyor plant-lunar craft at 2:17:37 a.m. EDT, 63 hours and a quarter-million miles after its launch Monday from Cape Kennedy.

Its crucial terminal sequence — a cartwheel in space to point its feet moonward, then at 69 miles out a blast from its powerful retro-rocket engine to slow to landing speed of 8 m.p.h. — ended with all instruments apparently functioning.

Thirty-five minutes later, it began televising pictures sent nationwide and overseas by three networks, employing the Early Bird satellite.

The first batch of three showed a leg and other portions, with the lunar surface in the background.

There was nothing to hint of danger to future manned landing craft.

A second batch of 10 showed more distant terrain — flat and featureless, except for a shadow, apparently that of the spacecraft, in the shape of a three, and what appeared to be a large rock.

The first two series, televised with 200 scan lines compared to 525 for a home screen, were dim and fuzzy and difficult to interpret.

Later shots with 600 scan lines — Surveyor is expected to return hundreds before the chill of the lunar night ends its life 12 days hence — were far clearer.

Some shots were expected to be better in quality, experts say, than the nine pictures sent back by the Soviet Union's Luna 9 last Feb. 3.

Negroes Warned Against Miracles

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has cautioned Negroes not to expect presidential miracles in the struggle against racial injustice.

"No national government, however enlightened, can by itself change the conditions of Negro life in America," he told his White House Conference on Civil Rights Wednesday night.

But he brought the 2,400 delegates to their feet with the measured declaration that "we are moving — we shall not turn back."

He pledged "to give my days and such talents as I have been given, to the pursuit of justice and opportunity for those so long denied that."

Johnson's unannounced appearance at the conference was seen by many delegates as a morale booster to an event that had limped from the starting line in a welter of parliamentary squabbling.

Discussions of the planning council's 100 recommendations to bring the Negro into full equality in jobs, housing, education and justice resume today at a midtown hotel.

In the last few hours before the conference ends, delegates will have their hard-won chance to vote on the resolutions to be tacked onto the council recommendations in a report to the President.

It is here that the Viet Nam issue may be injected into the two-day conference for the first time. Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality has promised resolutions "dealing with the effect of the war in Viet Nam on the Negro in the ghetto."

"We have made mistakes," Johnson said in his soft-spoken address. "We will make others for we know our weaknesses. We will arouse hopes as we have already done that cannot be quickly fulfilled."

"Do not expect from me, or any man, a miracle. Do not expect us, even together to put right in one year or four all that took centuries to make wrong."

BETTER COMMUNICATIONS — A 23-channel citizens band radio has been added to communication facilities at the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department through the courtesy of John Dunlap Jr. Demonstrating the new instrument is Sheriff Dwight Radcliff (standing) and Deputy George Linder. The new citizens radio will be tuned to channel 9, an emergency wave length.

Grain Firms In Court Over Contract

Seating of a jury to hear testimony in a breach of contract suit opened today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court with Judge William Ammer presiding.

The entire morning session was consumed by the selection of jurors. Completion of the panel was expected by mid-afternoon, with opening remarks by attorneys to follow.

Plaintiff in the civil suit is L. J. Dill, doing business as the L. J. Dill Grain Co., with offices in Columbus. The plaintiff firm filed the suit against the Scioto Grain Co., Ashville, for an alleged breach of contract.

Dill claims that his firm entered into a contract with the Ashville company on Oct. 18, 1960, for 4,000 bushels of soybeans to be shipped during October and November of that year at the price of $2.02 per bushel.

THE plaintiff, in his petition, stated that one carload of soybeans containing 2,005 bushels was shipped, but the balance of the contracted grain wasn't delivered.

Dill alleges he was damaged to the extent of $2,258.96 as a result of the breach of contract. He claims he had to purchase the balance of the 4,000 bushels of soybeans from another firm at the rate of $3.154 per bushel. He is also asking for a six percent interest rate on the alleged loss from April 28, 1961.

Representing the Dill firm are Robert H. Huffer and Roger Bennington, local attorneys. The Scioto Grain Co. is represented by Emmett L. Crist and Charles Wilburn of the local firm of Crist, Davis and Welton.

JW Women To Attend Sessions in Canada

Wayne Fetherolf, presiding minister of Circleville Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that seven women ministers of the local congregation will attend a five-day training session in Toronto, Canada.

The sessions, arranged by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, will be held June 22-26, at the Canadian National Exhibition Grandstand in Toronto.

Rhodes Panel May Import Dixie Negroes for Farms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A policy group of the governor's committee on migrant labor is considering bringing southern Negroes into Ohio this year to head off a possible shortage of farm labor. The Associated Press learned today.

Members of the policy advisory committee were in session and unavailable for comment but it was reported that William

Red China Tries Mend Cuban Ties

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China made an open move today to mend its relations with Fidel Castro's Cuba and charged that Moscow is betraying the Cuban people.

An article in the official Peking People's Daily claimed the Russians are not really supporting the Cubans in recent incidents at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. It said China is Cuba's "most faithful and dependable" friend.

The article came a day after Peking announced that it had renewed its trade and scientific cooperation agreement with Cuba. The New China News Agency said the agreement was signed in Havana a week ago.

The Cuban government had announced earlier that the two countries signed a pact for the exchange of rice and sugar.

The collapse of a similar barter agreement last fall led to a deterioration in relations between the two countries.

In a speech on March 14, Castro accused Peking of "launching an imperialist-type campaign against Cuba." China implied that Castro was moving ideologically toward Russia, and there were reports that he was purging pro-Peking elements in Cuba.

What brought the apparent change in China's attitude was not clear.

Training Program For Dropouts in Ohio Is Ordered

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes called today for a master plan for vocational and technical training schools in Ohio.

He directed the Board of Regents, the State Board of Education and the Education Department to draft a plan for training students who fail to graduate from high school and college.

"The master plan," Rhodes said at Wright State University campus groundbreaking ceremonies for a science and engineering building, "is necessary to prevent conflict of efforts and in effective use of tax dollars."
"Of 100 children who enter the first grade, only 14 will graduate from college, leaving 86 per cent. . . in dire need of vocational and technical training. We are determined to meet that need."

Two Men Treated

Two persons were treated Wednesday at Berger Hospital's Emergency Room. Both were released.

John Henderly, 31, Route 1, Amanda, was treated when he injured a finger on his left hand on steel.

Otis Fletcher, 41, of Norfolk, Va., was treated when a battery exploded in his face.

Ohio Police Urge More Training

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Response from police officers to urgings for additional training has been "tremendous," Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe told the 11th and last of his crime clinics here today.

Saxbe said the more than 1,250 policemen have attended the clinics, and questionnaires they filled out indicate they not only want them continued but would like to see them expanded to two days.

"This indicates the willingness of officers to improve themselves," Saxbe said, adding that "citizens must realize that to obtain and hold this type of policeman, it is going to be necessary to pay them more. . . if we're to get top notch people, we're going to have to pay the top notch salaries."

Again he suggested a guaranteed wage for law enforcement officials, similar to that assured to state school teachers. He said the only assistance given local law enforcement by the state comes from the attorney general's office, and that "the state is going to have to do more in the way of training and salaries for our local police."

Officers from Cuyahoga, Lake, Geauga and Ashtabula counties attended the session.

Hue Buddhists

m'se agreement to add 10 civilians to the ruling directorate of 16 generals.

Following up on its seizure on May 23 of Da Nang, the other Buddhist stronghold, the junta's troops swept into Hue without a shot after the departure of units of the dissident-riddled 1st Vietnamese division.

No opposition was reported from members of the Buddhist struggle movement there led by the monk Thich — Venerable — Tri Quang, leader of the Buddhist rebellion in the north. More than 1,000 students sacked and burned the U.S. consulate Wednesday and an adjoining consulate residence in Hue.

Most of the foreign civilians in the city had been evacuated, but U.S. Consul Thomas Corcoran and a skeleton staff had taken refuge last weekend with U.S. military personnel at the barricaded American military compound outside the center of the old imperial capital.

The agreement came after two meetings of the ruling junta and representatives of the Buddhist Institute at Saigon's Gia Long palace. The chief provision was that 10 civilians would be named by "mass organizations, religions and political parties" to the 10-man ruling directorate by Sunday.

It also called for election of a new junta chairman next Monday. The present chairman is Lt. Gen. Nguyen an Thieu, the Roman Catholic chief of state who with Ky has been chief target of Buddhist protests.

The enlarged junta — or directorate — is also to name a 'people's and armed forces council' before June 19 to help the present war cabinet until a civilian government takes over. The junta has pledged election of a constituent assembly on Sept. 11 to draft a constitution and clear the way for a civilian regime.

Stock Mart Shows Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held a moderate gain early this afternoon as trading continued slack.

Stocks were higher from the start as they resumed the recovery drive which cut losses late Wednesday.

Brokers said factors working toward higher prices included mounting evidence that there would be no tax increase and the government's notice that machine-tool orders will increase because of the Viet Nam struggle.

Aerospace issues, color televisions, other electronics and airlines were about the best gainers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 320.2 with industrials up .2, rails up .9 and utilities up .6. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.00 at 884.63.

Bidding Opens For Amanda PO Building

Competitive bids are being accepted to build and lease a new post office building at Amanda, according to Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

A contract was awarded on Dec. 10, 1965 to construct the building at Amanda. But the individual to whom the contract was made has been unable to proceed with the project, the announcement noted.

The Post Office Department's capital investment will be limited substantially to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

Site selected by the department is on the northeast corner of Main and School Sts., in Amanda. The successful bidder will purchase the property, construct the building according to departmental specifications and lease it to the Post Office Department for a basic period of eight years, with options to renew for an additional 20 years.

Bidding documents may be obtained from Regional real estate officer D. J. Gaughan, Post Office Box 809, Columbus, O. He will supply bidding forms, building specifications, lease provisions and other information.

Bids must be submitted to the department by 2 p. m. July 8, 1966.

Driver Hurts Shoulder in Car Mishap

Charles Wolfe, 33, Route 4, injured his shoulder when he lost control of his car 8:15 p. m. Wednesday on the Circleville-Tarleton Road west of Tarleton.

Wolfe told Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff he attempted to avoid a collision with a farm tractor and truck which had slowed to make a left turn.

Also injured slightly in the mishap was Dave Mosley, 29, Laurelville. Wolfe was treated at Berger Hospital and released. Sheriff Radcliff said the accident is still under investigation.

At 9:30 a. m. the sheriff was called to Shepherd Road, which borders the south side of Lockbourne Air Force Base.

He said Mary Joy Donofrio, 17, Toronto, Canada, lost control of the car she was driving and went off the road into a ditch. She complained of back injuries and was referred to a hospital for treatment.

Woman, 61, Drowns After Fall into Well

POMEROY, Ohio (AP) — A 61-year-old woman who lived alone on a county road near feedstore in Meigs County, 20 miles northeast of here, drowned in a well at her home Wednesday evening, Sheriff Bob Hartenbach reported.

The victim, Mrs. Pearl Victoria White Tanthorey, apparently fell into the well while drawing water, according to Coroner Henry Ewing, who returned a verdict of accidental death.

Grain Firms In Court Over Contract

Seating of a jury to hear testimony in a breach of contract suit opened today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court with Judge William Ammer presiding.

The entire morning session was consumed by the selection of jurors. Completion of the panel was expected by mid-afternoon, with opening remarks by attorneys to follow.

Plaintiff in the civil suit is L. J. Dill, doing business as the L. J. Dill Grain Co., with offices in Columbus. The plaintiff firm filed the suit against the Scioto Grain Co., Ashville, for an alleged breach of contract.

Dill claims that his firm entered into a contract with the Ashville company on Oct. 18, 1960, for 4,000 bushels of soybeans to be shipped during October and November of that year at the price of $2.02 per bushel.

THE plaintiff, in his petition, stated that one carload of soybeans containing 2,005 bushels was shipped, but the balance of the contracted grain wasn't delivered.

Dill alleges he was damaged to the extent of $2,589.96 as a result of the breach of contract. He claims he had to purchase the balance of the 4,000 bushels of soybeans from another firm at the rate of $3.15 1/2 per bushel. He is also asking for a six percent interest rate on the alleged loss from April 28, 1961.

Representing the Dill firm are Robert H. Huffer and Roger Bennington, local attorneys. The Scioto Grain Co. is represented by Emmett L. Crist and Charles Wilburn of the local firm of Crist, Davis and Welton.

Rhodes Panel May Import Dixie Negroes for Farms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A policy group of the governor's committee on migrant labor is considering bringing southern Negroes into Ohio this year to head off a possible shortage of farm labor. The Associated Press learned today.

Members of the policy advisory committee were in session and unavailable for comment but it was reported that William

O. Walker, director of industrial relations, had submitted the proposal.

Walker, only Negro member of Gov. James A. Rhodes' cabinet, was said to have proposed that Negroes be brought from Selma, Ala., to live in a "tent city" at the state's new migrant labor center in Northwest Ohio.

The center is in the heart of Ohio's tomato and sugar beet-producing counties where growers traditionally have depended on Spanish-speaking migrants in short supply in recent years. Walker is executive secretary of the governor's committee but his office said he was out of town and not available for comment.

A. T. Presas, a spokesman for the farm placement division of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said he knew of no specific proposal to bring Negroes from Selma, but said the state recruited some Negroes in Alabama last year for the first time.

He referred to the state as "a new labor source."

He said that he and James Bryne, the bureau's farm placement chief, planned to go to Alabama within the next few days but emphasized it was a "routine" trip to confirm employment of workers who earlier signed up to help with Ohio's potato crop.

Presas said the state has hired Negroes from Florida for the past several years to help during the farm season. "We certainly make no considerations as to race or anything like that," he added.

22-County Labor Force Is Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A survey made in 22 counties by the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation gives an unemployment rate of 3.1 per cent in April this year compared to 5.6 per cent in the same month last year.

The report said that of the 22 counties surveyed, the lowest rate—1.9 per cent—of unemployment was in Highland County, and the highest, 6.3 per cent, in Meigs County.

The analysis showed that in the 22 counties in April, 1964, the total civilian labor force was 373,250 of which 352,525 were employed and 20,725 unemployed. In the April survey this year the civilian labor force was increased to 383,075 of which 371,275 were employed and 11,800 unemployed.

The counties and the unemployment rate of each as determined by the survey: Allen 2.6; Ashtabula 4.1; Carroll 5.9; Champaign 2.1; Clark 2.6; Clinton 2.2; Columbiana 3.5; Coshocton 3.4; Darke 2.5; Erie 2.3; Fayette 4.4; Gallia 6.2; Guernsey 5.1; Highland 1.9; Huron 2.3; Knox 2.6; Logan 2.4; Meigs 6.3; Noble 4.0; Ottawa 3.1; Seneca 2.3; Van Wert 2.7.

"The master plan," Rhodes said at Wright State University campus groundbreaking ceremonies for a science and engineering building, "is necessary to prevent conflict of efforts and in effective use of tax dollars."

"Of 100 children who enter the first grade, only 14 will graduate from college, leaving 86 per cent . . . in dire need of vocational and technical training. We are determined to meet that need."

Two men were treated Wednesday at Berger Hospital's Emergency Room. Both were released.

John Henderly, 31, Route 1, Amanda, was treated when he injured a finger on his left hand on steel.

Otis Fletcher, 41, of Norfolk, Va., was treated when a battery exploded in his face.

Ohio Police Urge More Training

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Response from police officers to urgings for additional training has been "tremendous," Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe told the 11th and last of his crime clinics here today.

Saxbe said the more than 1,250 policemen have attended the clinics, and questionnaires they filled out indicate they not only want them continued but would like to see them expanded to two days.

"This indicates the willingness of officers to improve themselves," Saxbe said, adding that "citizens must realize that to obtain and hold this type of policeman, it is going to be necessary to pay them more . . . if we're to get top notch people, we're going to have to pay the top notch salaries."

Again he suggested a guaranteed wage for law enforcement officials, similar to that assured to state school teachers. He said the only assistance given local law enforcement by the state comes from the attorney general's office, and that "the state is going to have to do more in the way of training and salaries for our local police."

Officers from Cuyahoga, Lake, Geauga and Ashtabula counties attended the session.

The two men entered pleas of guilty. Bond was set at $3,500 for each by the judge.

Soviet's Luna 10 Runs Out of Power
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Luna 10 unmanned space ship, the moon's first manmade satellite, has run out of power and stopped sending information to earth, Tass reported today.

Luna 10 went into close orbit of the moon April 3. It was in radio contact with Soviet space stations until May 30 and made a total of 219 transmissions, the official news agency added.

Dr. Robert L. Shaffer, Jefferson county coroner, said the men were working in the Dora No. 2 mine of the Doverspike Brothers Coal Co. when they opened an abandoned working containing "black damp," a miner's term for air without oxygen.

Hue Buddhists

mise agreement to add 10 civilians to the ruling directorate of 16 generals.

Following up its seizure on May 23 of Da Nang, the other Buddhist stronghold, the junta's troops swept into Hue without a shot after the departure of units of the dissident-led 1st Vietnamese division.

No opposition was reported from members of the Buddhist struggle movement there led by the monk Thich — Venerable — Tri Quang, leader of the Buddhist rebellion in the north. More than 1,000 students sacked and burned the U.S. consulate Wednesday and an adjoining consulate residence in Hue.

Most of the foreign civilians in the city had been evacuated, but U.S. Consul Thomas Corcoran and a skeleton staff had taken refuge last weekend with U.S. military personnel at the barricaded American military compound outside the center of the old imperial capital.

The agreement came after two meetings of the ruling junta and representatives of the Buddhist Institute at Saigon's Gia Long palace. The chief provision was that 10 civilians would be named by "mass organizations, religions and political parties" to the 10-man ruling directorate by Sunday.

It also called for election of a new junta chairman next Monday. The present chairman is Lt. Gen. Nguyen an Thieu, the Roman Catholic chief of state who with Ky has been chief target of Buddhist protests.

The enlarged junta — or directorate — is also to name a "people's and armed forces council" before June 19 to help the present war cabinet until a civilian government takes over. The junta has pledged election of a constituent assembly on Sept. 11 to draft a constitution and clear the way for a civilian regime.

Stock Mart Shows Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market held a moderate gain early this afternoon as trading continued slack.

Stocks were higher from the start as they resumed the recovery drive which cut losses late Wednesday.

Brokers said factors working toward higher prices included mounting evidence that there would be no tax increase and the government's notice that machine-tool orders will increase because of the Viet Nam struggle.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 320.2 with industrials up .2, rails up .9 and utilities up .6.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.00 at 854.63.

Bidding Opens U.S. Hammers For Amanda PO Building

Competitive bids are being accepted to build and lease a new post office building at Amanda, according to Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

A contract was awarded on Dec. 10, 1965 to construct the building at Amanda. But the individual to whom the contract was made has been unable to proceed with the project, the announcement noted.

The Post Office Department's capital investment will be limited substantially to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

Site selected by the department is on the northeast corner of Main and School Sts., in Amanda. The successful bidder will purchase the property, construct the building according to departmental specifications and lease it to the Post Office Department for a basic period of eight years, with options to renew for an additional 20 years.

Bidding documents may be obtained from Regional real estate officer D. J. Gaughan, Post Office Box 809, Columbus, O. He will supply bidding forms, building specifications, lease provisions and other information.

Bids must be submitted to the department by 2 p. m. July 8, 1966.

Driver Hurts Shoulder in Car Mishap

Charles Wolfe, 33, Route 4, injured his shoulder when he lost control of his car 8:15 p. m. Wednesday on the Circleville-Tarleton Road west of Tarleton.

Wolfe told Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff he attempted to avoid a collision with a farm tractor and truck which had slowed to make a left turn.

Also injured slightly in the mishap was Dave Mosley, 29, Laurelville. Wolfe was treated at Berger Hospital and released. Sheriff Radcliff said the accident is still under investigation.

At 9:30 a. m. the sheriff was called to Shepherd Road, which borders the south side of Lockbourne Air Force Base.

He said Mary Joy Donofrio, 17, Toronto, Canada, lost control of the car she was driving and went off the road into a ditch. She complained of back injuries and was referred to a hospital for treatment.

Woman, 61, Drowns After Fall into Well

POMEROY, Ohio (AP) — A 61-year-old woman who lived alone on a county road near Leesville in Meigs County, 20 miles northeast of here, drowned in a well at her home Wednesday evening, Sheriff Bob Hartenbach reported.

The victim, Mrs. Pearl Victoria White Tanthorey, apparently fell into the well while drawing water, according to Coroner Henry Ewing, who returned a verdict of accidental death.

Mainly About People

Vietnamese and the enemy remained about the same.

The casualty report for the week ending May 28 listed 87 Americans killed in battle, 605 wounded and two missing. The week before there were 146 American dead, 820 wounded and no missing.

The casualties brought the number of Americans reported killed in battle since Jan. 1 to 1,705 by unofficial tabulation, the number of wounded to 10,836, and the total American dead in the Vietnamese war to 3,553.

A government spokesman said 240 Vietnamese troops were killed and 55 missing or captured in the week. For the previous week, 236 Vietnamese were reported killed and 84 missing or captured. Government wounded are not disclosed.

Australian, South Korean and New Zealand forces reported three battle deaths and six wounded.

The allies reported 1,173 Communists killed compared to 1,235 for the week of May 22-28, bringing claimed enemy dead for the year to 19,910. The number of Reds reported captured rose to 197 from 91 the week before.

Senate Bank Committee Members To Face Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bankers, builders and businessmen have a particular interest in this year's Senate elections in Virginia, Alabama and Illinois. Involved in the contests are the three top Democrats on the appear to have hard re-election fights.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, 79, chairman of the committee, is engaged in Virginia in a slug-

Ohio's Highway Fatality Counter Quits Grim Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Harold Kaiser has retired from a job he admits was often grim and frustrating—counting Ohio's traffic deaths.

His 35-year career as a statistician for the state taught him that "It's trite but true that death takes no holiday."

One of his last tasks as chief statistician for the Department of Highway Safety was forecasting the state's death toll for the past Memorial Day weekend. He was way off—and glad of it. His estimate was 33, the final toll 15.

The low toll can be attributed to many things, he said, with the major factor being chance.

"I'd be willing to bet that next weekend or the weekend

after there will be more deaths," he said. "There's very little difference between holidays and comparable periods of length in the same season."

Kaiser, 58, didn't leave his job without some personal opinions on traffic safety. For one thing, he thinks the recent controversy over defective autos has taken the spotlight away from the major problems.

"You've got to control the driver. He's the guy who takes the car out with a headlight missing or with defective brakes," he said.

For Ohio, he'd like to see tighter driver license regulations, a tougher point system on driver licenses and more manpower for the Ohio Highway Patrol.

The patrol gained one honorary member last week—Kaiser. Patrol Supt. Robert M. Chiaramonte presented him an honorary commission at a retirement party attended by many state department heads.

Kaiser's boss in recent years, Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson, says Ohio is losing "the best statistician in the country."

His successor is Rex Vernon, another 35-year state employee.

In History TODAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, June 2, the 152nd day of 1966. There are 212 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1953, Queen Elizabeth II, the present monarch of Britain, was crowned in Westminster Abbey.

On this date

In 1941, Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini met at the Brenner Pass.

In 1942, a lend-lease agreement was signed in Washington with the Republic of China.

In 1944, the U.S. opened a shuttle-bombing base in the Soviet Union.

In 1945, Allied planes raided five airfields on the Japanese main island of Kyushu.

In 1946, Gen. George Marshall was reported in Nanking to have offered a new formula to end fighting in Manchuria between government troops and Communist fighters.

Ten years ago—A large motorboat on Lake Orr in Umatilla, Fla., was swamped and 10 persons drowned; and in Bay of Bengal off the coast of East Pakistan, 109 persons drowned when a coastal steamer sank.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy and French President Charles de Gaulle discussed their divergent views on the Atlantic alliance and reviewed European defense in a day of talks on Kennedy's second day of an official visit to Paris.

One year ago—The first contingent of Australian combat troops — 111 infantrymen — arrived for duty in South Viet Nam.

Cuban Exile Group Plans Forays Against Fidel Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A newly formed Cuban exile group says it took part in last weekend's unsuccessful attempt to infiltrate Cuba and plans to step up its activities against the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The Cuban Exile Representation — RECE — announced Tuesday it has joined with two anti-Castro groups as a coordinated movement seemed to be gathering momentum among the divided exile front.

Intensive negotiations were reported for a wide-ranging alliance that would include at least four other militant anti-Castro groups.

"Instead of going it alone, exile groups now are going to coordinate efforts," said RECE spokesman Ernesto Freyre. "Together we can accomplish our aim."

"Losing one battle does not mean you have lost the war," he said of the six anti-Castro revolutionaries who attempted to infiltrate Cuba by launch last weekend. Two were killed, two were wounded and captured and two are presumed drowned.

Freyre and other spokesmen for the new federation — composed of RECE, Commandos 1 and a faction of the 30th of November Movement — refused to discuss launching sites or any specifics of the weekend raid.

The Cuban government has charged that the six men intended to assassinate Castro and said the U.S. government's Central Intelligence Agency was connected with the plot.

The Cubans also charged that the launch carrying the six embarked from Marathon Key, Fla., despite a U.S. moratorium on such attacks.

The Cuban government charges touched off an intensive inquiry in Washington, State Department officials said Tuesday night they had received no reports either from U. S. agencies here or in Florida with direct information on the revolutionaries' takeoff point.

Officials stressed that the United States long has sought to discourage such raids and that a number of such expeditions have been halted in waters off Florida.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, 65, who is next in line for the chairmanship, already has won the Democratic nomination in Alabama. But in the cross-currents of emotion in that state, the Democratic nomination is not the assurance of election that it has been for years. Four years ago, Democrat Ister Hill of Alabama won re-election by only about 6,800 votes.

Alabama Republicans will choose their Senate candidate in a convention July 29. The expectation is that the nomination will go to John Grenier of Birmingham, former executive of the Republican National Committee.

Sen. Paul A. Douglas, 74, now ranks behind Sparkman in committee seniority, already he is campaigning vigorously in Illinois against his expected Republican opponent, Charles H. Percy.

Percy, 46, ran for governor two years ago but was defeated in the Democratic landslide of that presidential election year. He is a former chief executive of Bell & Howell Co.

In addition to legislation dealing with banks, the Banking Committee handles a variety of other business legislation. Housing matters come under its jurisdiction. It would handle wage-price control measures if world developments led Congress to consider them.

The chairman of the committee, as is true of any major congressional committee, has great power. Particularly, he can expedite or delay consideration of specific bills.

For instance, Douglas has been trying for years to get enactment of a law requiring that installment purchasers be given more complete information on finance charges.

Douglas' bill once came out of a subcommittee which he headed, but the full committee sent it back there. Robertson opposes the bill.

His 35-year career as a statistician for the state taught him that "It's true but true that death takes no holiday."

One of his last tasks as chief statistician for the Department of Highway Safety was forecasting the state's death toll for the past Memorial Day weekend. He was way off—and glad of it. His estimate was 33, the final toll 15.

The low toll can be attributed to many things, he said, with the major factor being chance. "I'd be willing to bet that next weekend or the weekend

after there will be more deaths," he said. "There's very little difference between holidays and comparable periods of length in the same season."

Kaiser, 58, didn't leave his job without some personal opinions on traffic safety. For one thing, he thinks the recent controversy over defective autos has taken the spotlight away from the major problems.

"You've got to control the driver. He's the guy who takes the car out with a headlight missing or with defective brakes," he said.

For Ohio, he'd like to see tighter driver license regulations, a tougher point system on driver licenses and more manpower for the Ohio Highway Patrol.

The patrol gained one honorary member last week—Kaiser. Patrol Supt. Robert M. Chiaramonte presented him an honorary commission at a retirement party attended by many state department heads.

Kaiser's boss in recent years, Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson, says Ohio is losing "the best statistician in the country."

His successor is Rex Vernon, another 35-year state employee.

In History TODAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, June 2, the 152nd day of 1966. There are 212 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1953, Queen Elizabeth II, the present monarch of Britain, was crowned in Westminster Abbey.

On this date

In 1941, Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini met at the Brenner Pass.

In 1942, a lend-lease agreement was signed in Washington with the Republic of China.

In 1944, the U.S. opened a shuttle-bombing base in the Soviet Union.

In 1945, Allied planes raided five airfields on the Japanese main island of Kyushu.

In 1946, Gen. George Marshall was reported in Nanking to have offered a new formula to end fighting in Manchuria between government troops and Communist fighters.

Ten years ago—A large motorboat on Lake Orr in Umatilla, Fla., was swamped and 10 persons drowned; and in Bay of Bengal off the coast of East Pakistan, 109 persons drowned when a coastal steamer sank.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy and French President Charles de Gaulle discussed their divergent views on the Atlantic alliance and reviewed European defense in a day of talks on Kennedy's second day of an official visit to Paris.

One year ago—The first contingent of Australian combat troops — 111 infantrymen — arrived for duty in South Viet Nam.

Science Center Eyes Scout Week

"A Promise With Action" is the theme of activities to be presented by Central Ohio Girl Scouts during the week of June 12 - 19 at the Center of Science and Industry, in Columbus.

The week-long series of events will get under way at 3 p. m. June 12 with a Flag Ceremony by Troop 517, followed by a play, "Four Lives of A Girl" by Troop 53, and an Audubon motion picture, "Islands of Green."

All programs are designed to show the many educational advantages to be derived from participation in Girl Scout activities. Music, camping, dramatic training, nature study, and international understanding are among some of the subjects involved in Girl Scout Week at the Center of Science and Industry.

Hours at the Center are: Sundays and Holidays: 1 to 5:30 p. m.; Mondays from 1 to 9 p. m.; Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Cuban Exile Group Plans Forays Against Fidel Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A newly formed Cuban exile group says it took part in last weekend's unsuccessful attempt to infiltrate Cuba and plans to step up its activities against the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The Cuban Exile Representation — RECE — announced Tuesday it has joined with two anti-Castro groups as a coordinated movement seemed to be gathering momentum among the divided exile front.

Intensive negotiations were reported for a wide-ranging alliance that would include at least four other militant anti-Castro groups.

"Instead of going it alone, exile groups now are going to coordinate efforts," said RECE spokesman Ernesto Freyre. "Together we can accomplish our aim."

"Losing one battle does not mean you have lost the war," he said of the six anti-Castro revolutionaries who attempted to infiltrate Cuba by launch last weekend. Two were killed, two were wounded and captured and two are presumed drowned.

Freyre and other spokesmen for the new federation — composed of RECE, Commandos 1 and a faction of the 30th of November Movement — refused to discuss launching sites or any specifics of the weekend raid.

The Cuban government has charged that the six men intended to assassinate Castro and said the U.S. government's Central Intelligence Agency was connected with the plot.

The Cubans also charged that the launch carrying the six embarked from Marathon Key, Fla., despite a U.S. moratorium on such attacks.

The Cuban government charges touched off an intensive inquiry in Washington. State Department officials said Tuesday night they had received no reports either from U. S. agencies here or in Florida with direct information on the revolutionaries' takeoff point.

Officials stressed that the United States long has sought to discourage such raids and that a number of such expeditions have been halted in waters off Florida.

The Foreign Minister of Rumania was talking about his cousins, the Rumanians. "When a Rumanian speaks," he said, "I'm never sure whether there is more than meets the ear in what he is saying, or whether there is less. It's impossible to make out just what is going on between Bucharest and Moscow at the moment. On the one hand it looks like a bona fide Rumanian rebellion against Soviet domination. On the other hand, the Soviets seem remarkably permissive in their handling of the situation. Maybe Brezhnev has ulterior motives in wanting it to appear to the Rumanians that he is an indulgent parent."

"What I can't get out of my head," so the Foreign Minister continued, "is this remarkable parallelism between French Gaullism and Rumanian Gaullism. The coincidental timing of the French objections to NATO and the Rumanian quibbles about the Warsaw Pact is too pat to be anything but suspicious. The only trouble is that I don't know whom to suspect. "If it is the Rumanians who are being clever, then they have chosen a moment when they can be sure of getting maximum safety mileage in standing up to Moscow. You may be certain that Brezhnev and Kosygin want things to run smoothly when de Gaulle shows up this coming month for that ten-day visit to the Soviet Union. They will certainly want to encourage de Gaulle in his attempts to weaken NATO and get U.S. troops out of western Europe. So they could hardly crack down on Rumania for suggesting that, as a universal proposition, it might be a good thing if foreign troops were to be removed from all independent countries."

"You may have noticed," so the Foreign Minister went on, "that Nicolae Ceausescu, the Rumanian Communist chief, took a lot of liberties in that speech he made on the forty-fifth anniversary of his party's founding. He actually denounced the Soviet Communists for grabbing the old Rumanian territory of Bessarabia. And he put in a snide reference to the Nazi-Soviet Pact of 1939. All of this was sheer effrontery. But he also stuck a criticism of the quartering of foreign troops on the territory of other states into his speech, which meant that he was moving to the attack under the Gaullist barrage coming out of Paris."

"Brezhnev is supposed to have been quite perturbed by Ceausescu's impudence. But was he, really? If it is the Russians who are being clever, wouldn't they want to appear at this moment to be welcoming the idea of disengagement and decompression in Europe? Maybe when de Gaulle appears in Moscow, the Kremlin will be ready to offer a great trade. I can see de Gaulle linking arms with Brezhnev and Kosygin and suggesting to London, Washington, and Bonn a grand removal of troops from foreign soil all around. For every British or American regiment brought home from West Germany and Berlin, there could be a matching offer of removal of Soviet troops from Polish and Hungarian soil. If this sort of suggested deal is what is in the wind, then Brezhnev might actually have told the Rumanians to criticize the quartering of troops on foreign territory."

"What makes me doubly suspicious about the Rumanian rebellion is the curious fact that, some time before Ceausescu's nasty speech, the Kremlin chose of its own free will to publish in its own journal, 'Kommunist,' a criticism of Soviet policy written by Alexandru Dreghech, who happens to be a prominent Rumanian party secretary. The articles served notice on Moscow that all Communist nations must be considered as equals. Now, why should the Kremlin want such an article published at this time? I haven't got any answer to this question right now, but maybe it will all come out in the wash when de Gaulle and the Russians start talking."

"As I say, I don't know who is being clever, the Rumanians or the Russians. Maybe it's just a clever deal all around. But whatever it is, Washington and London had better get off their flat feet. The stage is surely being managed for a grand coup by le grand Charles."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My husband and I do not take sleeping pills or tranquilizers regularly or in large quantities. During a period of emotional stress or for sleeplessness we take an occasional pill. We had been concerned because of the newspaper reports that some pills can be a deadly combination. How can the public be protected against such dangers?

Mrs. E. A., Ohio
Dear Mrs. A.: A firm rule of safety is to limit the amount of a drug and the frequency with which it is taken to the definite instructions of your physician.

Doctors with their years of expert training and experience are qualified to regulate the use of drugs.

Recently a number of unhappy experiences, some fatal, were found to be caused by combination of alcohol, tranquilizers and barbiturates. It is well known that some drugs are altered by the presence of others.

Sometimes drugs combine with each other and upset the normal functioning of body tissues. For example, it is recognized that barbiturates can interfere with the body's ability to get rid of large quantities of alcohol. The result is a severe depression of some of the functions of the body.

In most instances the side-effects of drugs and combinations of drugs are known to the physician, the manufacturers of drugs and to the Pure Food and Drug Administration which releases a product as "safe" only after intense study.

The occasional use of a sleeping pill or a tranquilizer under proper direction is safe when taken alone in small quantities. Mixing "drug cocktails" is generally unwise.

We have just learned that a dear and close relative of ours has active tuberculosis. We have been in close contact with her although we do not live together. Is there a danger that we might contract the disease? We were shocked to learn that tuberculosis still exists.

U. M., California
Dear Mr. M.: Let me take advantage of your letter to emphasize the fact that tuberculosis still is a disease that takes a huge toll of health and life in America and all over the world. It is a common error to believe that this virulent disease has been completely wiped out by the "wonder drugs."

This is false and sometimes leads to carelessness and disregard of the early symptoms of tuberculosis. Fortunately, the antibiotics and sulfa drugs and other medications can keep tuberculosis controlled and often completely cured. In order for this to happen, tuberculosis must first be flushed out of hiding.

There is one excellent way to uncover tuberculosis and that is by regular yearly X-ray examination of the chest. The chances that you or your family might have contacted tuberculosis is not likely but certainly you deserve to be sure. X-ray of the chest and physical examination by your physician will rule out the possibility that you have been affected by your relative's illness.

Save your back. Don't pick up a load that is heavier than one you normally can handle.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My husband and I do not take sleeping pills or tranquilizers regularly or in large quantities. During a period of emotional stress or for sleeplessness we take an occasional pill. We had been concerned because of the newspaper reports that some pills can be a deadly combination. How can the public be protected against such dangers?

Mrs. E. A., Ohio

Dear Mrs. A.: A firm rule of safety is to limit the amount of a drug and the frequency with which it is taken to the definite instructions of your physician.

Doctors with their years of expert training and experience are qualified to regulate the use of drugs.

Recently a number of unhappy experiences, some fatal, were found to be caused by combination of alcohol, tranquilizers and barbiturates. It is well known that some drugs are altered by the presence of others.

Sometimes drugs combine with each other and upset the normal functioning of body tissues. For example, it is recognized that barbiturates can interfere with the body's ability to get rid of large quantities of alcohol. The result is a severe depression of some of the functions of the body.

In most instances the side-effects of drugs and combinations of drugs are known to the physician, the manufacturer of drugs and to the Pure Food and Drug Administration which releases a product as "safe" only after intense study.

The occasional use of a sleeping pill or a tranquilizer under proper direction is safe when taken alone in small quantities. Mixing "drug cocktails" is generally unwise.

We have just learned that a dear and close relative of ours has active tuberculosis. We have been in close contact with her although we do not live together. Is there a danger that we might contract the disease? We were shocked to learn that tuberculosis still exists.

U. M., California
Dear Mr. M.: Let me take advantage of your letter to emphasize the fact that tuberculosis still is a disease that takes a huge toll of health and life in America and all over the world. It is a common error to believe that this virulent disease has been completely wiped out by the "wonder drugs." This is false and sometimes leads to carelessness and disregard of the early symptoms of tuberculosis.

Fortunately, the antibiotics and sulfa drugs and other medications can keep tuberculosis controlled and often completely cured. In order for this to happen, tuberculosis must first be flushed out of hiding. There is one excellent way to uncover tuberculosis and that is by regular yearly X-ray examination of the chest. The chances that you or your family might have contacted tuberculosis is not likely but certainly you deserve to be sure. X-ray of the chest and physical examination by your physician will rule out the possibility that you have been affected by your relative's illness.

Save your back. Don't pick up a load that is heavier than one you normally can handle.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of American policy toward Red China is a guessing game, including the hope it will change its ways, and now there are rumbles there. But that doesn't mean change, if it comes, will come soon.

That there has been discontent with the present leadership in Red China has been clear for weeks, giving some support to the hope that in time, when younger leaders take over, some of the present fanaticism will disappear.

It is for this reason that so much of American policy toward Red China has been aimed at preventing the Chinese from gobbling up the rest of Asia now.

Last March Secretary of State Dean Rusk put it this way: "It is just as essential to 'contain' Communist aggression in Asia as it was, and is, to 'contain' Communist aggression in Europe."

In recent months there have been continued attacks on Chinese intellectuals by the government of Mao Te-tung. But until now the dissidents have simply been rebuked or downgraded, so far as is known.

Now the Chinese government is attacking Ten To, once its leading spokesman as editor of the official People's Daily. There are indications he will be brought to trial and purged.

It might be the start of a far wider purge and thus become a repetition of what happened in Russia under Stalin in the 1930s. He began his purges in 1934, just 17 years after the Bolshevik revolution took Russia.

It's been almost 17 years since the Chinese Communists took control of the China mainland, making it seem that with a less than a generation after a Red revolution younger people get fed up with the fanatic old masters.

There can be no doubt Mao has wrought many beneficial changes for the Chinese people since he and his group of lieutenants after two decades of trying seized the mainland.

But the Chinese people have had a tough time on the road to progress. Meanwhile, the Mao leadership has made them hostile to most of the world with anti-Western and even anti-Russian propaganda.

At the same time the Chinese have seen their leadership suffer defeats and rebuffs around the world. They have nothing to look forward to but even more isolation from the rest of the world, including most of the Communist world.

To achieve Chinese magnificence Mao has insisted upon total conformity and acceptance of his leadership. The discontent of recent months shows the leadership is not being accepted totally.

The present discontent may be crushed, just as Stalin crushed it during his lifetime in Russia. He was repudiated by his successors.

It's doubtful that would have happened if the West, led by the United States, had not "contained" Russia through a military alliance which prevented Stalin from grabbing Europe.

This early containment policy also was based on the hope in time Russia might become less aggressive and easier to live with. Rusk expressed the same view about China:

"We must keep firmly in our minds that there is nothing eternal about the policies and attitudes of Communist China. Peking's present state of mind is a combination of aggressive arrogance and obsessions of its own making."

"We have little hope of changing the outlook of these leaders. They are the product of their entire lives. They seem to be immune to agreement or persuasion."

It's been almost 17 years since the Chinese Communists took control of the China mainland, making it seem that with a less than a generation after a Red revolution younger people get fed up with the fanatic old masters.

There can be no doubt Mao has wrought many beneficial changes for the Chinese people since he and his group of lieutenants after two decades of trying seized the mainland.

But the Chinese people have had a tough time on the road to progress. Meanwhile, the Mao leadership has made them hostile to most of the world with anti-Western and even anti-Russian propaganda.

At the same time the Chinese have seen their leadership suffer defeats and rebuffs around the world. They have nothing to look forward to but even more isolation from the rest of the world, including most of the Communist world.

To achieve Chinese magnificence Mao has insisted upon total conformity and acceptance of his leadership. The discontent of recent months shows the leadership is not being accepted totally.

The present discontent may be crushed, just as Stalin crushed it during his lifetime in Russia. He was repudiated by his successors.

It's doubtful that would have happened if the West, led by the United States, had not "contained" Russia through a military alliance which prevented Stalin from grabbing Europe.

This early containment policy also was based on the hope in time Russia might become less aggressive and easier to live with. Rusk expressed the same view about China:

"We must keep firmly in our minds that there is nothing eternal about the policies and attitudes of Communist China. Peking's present state of mind is a combination of aggressive arrogance and obsessions of its own making."

"We have little hope of changing the outlook of these leaders. They are the product of their entire lives. They seem to be immune to agreement or persuasion."

Dear Abby: Flier Determined To Keep Wings

DEAR ABBY: After my husband had a close call, he promised me he would quit flying for a hobby, but he sneaks off and flies anyway. He's even lied to our insurance man about it. I know he still flies because if the weather is bad and he can't get home, he has to call me. I love him, but I've threatened to leave him. We have our children and I don't want a divorce, but I can't take worrying about him all the time. What is your advice?

FLYING WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you can't persuade your husband to quit flying and you don't want a divorce, your remaining alternative is to learn to live with it. Apparently your man is determined to have wings, and from your description of him, he's not likely to sprout any.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister-in-law who's smart, book-wise, and she doesn't let anybody forget it for a minute. She's a Stanford graduate. Big deal! My complaint: Whenever there is a family gathering, she suggests word games like "Twenty Questions" or "Char-

Sorosis Club Busy Prepping For Book Fair

The Sorosis Club of Williamsport is busy making last minute preparations for the Book Fair members which is being sponsored this Friday and Saturday.

The Book Fair will be held in the Williamsport School gym each afternoon 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Evening hours will be 7 to 9.

Books will be available from pre-school to adult reading. The public is invited to come and browse and buy.

Mrs. Paul Whitesed is president of Sorosis. Mrs. William Easterday is ways and means chairman.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clifton have returned from a visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Marilyn and Andy Lorentz of Antioch, Ill. They toured the Circus World Museum, grounds and circus at Baraboo, Wis.; Lake Geneva, Wis.; the Chain-of-Lakes area, Ill. and watched a doubleheader White Sox game in Chicago. Marilyn and her daughter, Natalie, returned with them and will be visiting until Tuesday.

ades," or something where she can show off how smart she is.

We are a fairly intelligent bunch, but nobody except this one sister-in-law is interested in playing these brain games, which are more like contests. She's the bossy type and talks everyone into it every time we get together. How can we get out of playing these games without looking like poor sports?

HATES THOSE GAMES

DEAR ABBY: Speak for yourself. If you don't want to participate in "brain games," say so. And by the way, the rest of the bunch can't be as "intelligent" as you say they are, or they wouldn't permit themselves to be maneuvered into playing games in which they have no interest. Not consistently, anyway.

DEAR ABBY: This is to further support your comforting statement that the gestation period of a child can be well over 10 months: There was a case in England early in the century in which the husband an officer stationed in India, had sued on the ground that the child could not possibly have been his; the gestation period having been nearly 11 months.

The case went to the house of lords, which is the equivalent of our Supreme Court, and the LADY finally won. The decision was, "While it is highly unusual, it is NOT impossible to carry a child for nearly 11 months."

School, she plans to attend Wartburg College at Waverly, Ia., in preparation to becoming a physical education teacher.

In keeping with this aim, Jody as she is called, has participated in Girls' Athletic Association, National Honor Society, Future Teachers of America, band, French Club, and the yearbook staff.

She has demonstrated leadership ability as vice president of the Student Council. She also was chosen to attend Buckeye Girls' State.

In choosing the Freshman Scholarship winners, applications from all Pickaway County high schools are considered by a panel of judges.

Serving as judges this year, were Judge William D. Radcliff, Mr. James Wilson, Mrs. Ronald Spence, Mrs. James Jones and Mrs. Dennis Johnson.

Miss Pettibone, Mr. Blanton Repeat Vows

Miss Vicky Jean Pettibone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pettibone, 5056 Crites Drive, Ashville, and PFC Jimmy Blanton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Blanton of Route 4, were united in marriage on May 28.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Hill in the South Bloomfield Methodist Church.

The bride was attired in a street length dress of white linen, a white veil and white accessories. Her bouquet was of white carnations and small pink rose buds.

Miss Carol Blanton, sister of the groom, attended as maid of honor. She chose a blue dress with white accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations.

PFC Michael Wilson of Oklahoma City, Okla., served as best man.

A reception for members of the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Blanton are residing in Fayetteville, N.C.

Krabach Says Ohio Building Fat Surplus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Finance Director Richard Krabach expects the state to end its fiscal year this month with a $20 million to $25 million surplus he would like to keep in a contingency fund for a possible rainy day.

Most of the surplus comes from sales and use tax collections running far ahead of expectations.

The state also anticipates interest earnings on invested funds to run more than double income from that source a year ago, State Treasurer John J. Herbert said.

Krabach attributed the surplus to a combination of in-budget limitations.

The surplus actually might have been higher but Krabach creased revenues and a policy of holding state spending within said that the budget drafted for the state's accounting year ending June 30 included an anticipated gain of $21 million in revenues. The $20-25 million surplus is over and above the budget forecast made two years ago, he explained.

The next legislature will decide how the surplus is to be used. But Krabach wants most of it kept as a reserve to meet possible emergencies that otherwise might create a deficit if revenues drop without a corresponding cut in expenditures.

Some officials said however, the legislature might want to tap the surplus to pay higher state salaries.

Sales tax collections from last July 1 through May 28 totaled $324 million, a gain of $23 million, or 9.8 per cent, over the $295 million for the same period last fiscal year, Herbert said in his latest report.

The state also earned $14.1 million in interest, mainly on U.S. Treasury obligations and time deposits in banks, between July 1 and May 31, an increase of almost $6.8 million dollars over the same period a year ago. The money goes into the state's general fund and into bond retirement funds.

Total earnings on state investments during the previous fiscal year totaled $7.78 million. Herbert expects the total for the current fiscal year to exceed $16 million by month-end.

Reno Contests Harsha Stand on Medicare Program

Ottie W. Reno, Democratic candidate for Representative to Congress from Ohio's Sixth District, speaking on a radio broadcast Wednesday at Portsmouth, took Rep. William Harsha to task for his opposition to Medicare and pledged that he would support such future amendments and implementations as are needed to achieve the purpose of the bill.

"The problem existing with regard to medical care for our citizens over 65 has become so acute as to give rise to an obligation on the part of the government to act in their behalf," Reno said.

"With 20 million people over 65, six million of them on incomes of less than $1800 a year and costs of treatment rising faster than their incomes, how were they to pay? Obviously they could not and the alternative was that many should suffer and some should die for lack of medical care," he added.

"The fact that my opponent fought against Medicare and voted against it as he has done on all bills of a similar nature illustrates a basic difference in our political philosophy. He is willing to completely disregard the needs of a large segment of his people to vote his hide-bound conservative line," Reno declared.

Surveyor Sends Moon Pictures

The third sequence of about 30 better quality pictures — though some of these were fuzzy, too — were flashed on a TV screen for brief periods less than a minute apart. They were made as the camera, mounted vertically on Surveyor's frame, swiveled about.

They gave further views of parts of the spacecraft, and looked anew at the large rock pictured earlier. "Large" is relative. It appeared no larger than 8 to 10 inches across. Long shots looking out over the landscape added no new details.

Further transmissions continued at intervals into the day — a bewildering variety of close and long shots of Surveyor and its new neighborhood.

Pictures blinked onto the laboratory's viewing screen at three-second intervals, affording just flash views to viewers. Additional shots toward the foot of the craft showed surface areas that appeared soft and fuzzy, others that appeared almost like dry mud with cracks, still others that seemed littered with fine debris having sharp edges. In one a white spot showing on the horizon was explained as sun glare on the camera lens.

All pictures in addition to being televised were recorded on tape and film. Photographic prints available later were expected to be considerably sharper than the TV versions.

Surveyor's feat was regarded as a significant advance over Luna 9, which finally scored after at least four failures. The Soviet craft was a 200-pound shock resistant ball containing a camera.

It apparently was ejected several hundred feet above the surface from a carrier vehicle equipped with small retro-rockets. U.S. scientists said its impact probably would kill a man.

Surveyor's main rocket and three guidance rockets slowed its 620 pounds to an estimated 8 miles per hour, then it dropped 14 feet to the surface. Shock absorbers and crushable pads cushioned it. Experts said it apparently was stable all the way down as it balanced on a tongue of flame.

So perfect was the guidance that the landing was within feet of the predicted impact point in the Sea of Storms, a broad dry plain near the western edge of the face of the moon, just south of the lunar equator. It is one of several areas considered as Apollo descent points.

The first picture showed a leg and foot on the soil, snapped as the camera pointed downward in self-examination. The second showed an antenna and beyond that the more distant surface. The third showed a leg, in better focus, resting entirely atop the crust.

The second sequence showed an antenna boom and part of the aluminum tubing frame. Then followed others showing a murky landscape, dim and fuzzy and the surface looking gravely. Some shots showed a distant horizon, with no major features.

The success, which brought shouts of joy from workers assembled at the laboratory, will launch a seven-shot series of Surveyors over 18 months in a style few had dared hope for.

One project official had called Surveyor "probably more difficult and complex than anything yet attempted in space by anyone."

Seven shots were scheduled because the chances of success were so slim. Presumably later shots will aim at different possible manned landing areas. Surveyor's ground shots then will be compared with those from the upcoming Orbiter series, which will make photos as a spacecraft skims as close as 29 miles to the surface and on the basis of this an Apollo site will be selected.

Telescopic pictures from Earth show the Sea of Storms landing area as a hundred-mile-diameter plain ringed with ridges. In the southern portion is 1,800-foot-high Flamsteed crater. Just north of it is Surveyor's resting place.

The expert at the laboratory, which controlled the flight, said after seeing the pictures: "It looks like they prepared a landing field for us."

He added that one shot made

Citizens of Soviet Georgia Talk and Act Like Texans

Tbilisi, South Georgia (AP)—The noise up and down the tree-lined streets in the center of Tbilisi was almost deafening.

Saltcreek Valley

Pastor Glenn Isernhagen will serve the Lutheran Parish for the next few weeks and Dr. Doermann will serve in Dr. Zietlow's place next winter.

Dick Reichelderfer and Danny, Dorothy and Ronnie left Saturday for a two-week vacation in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Aldenderfer of Plymouth, Mich., spent the weekend with his sisters, Mrs. Helen A. Strous, Mrs. Lucille Kohler and Miss Mabel Aldenderfer.

A large crowd attended the Saltcreek 8th grade commencement at the School last Thursday evening. Orations were given by Diane Luckhart, Vicki Fraunfelter and Lynette Justice.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones and Louise and Cindy were Sunday evening supper guests of the "Valley Home Farm" folks. The Max Luckharts and the David Luckharts also were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones and Connie and Jeff were among relatives of the Macklin families attending a picnic Sunday at the George Macklin home near Laurelville.

Max Luckhart took the 8th graders to the "Holiday Inn" in Chillicothe for supper last Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Drake and Mr. Straight accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bryant and Roxan and Carol of Washington C. H., were the Sunday guests of the Max Luckharts.

Tania, Marlon and Krystal Luckhart spent several days with their grandparents.

Miss Miriam Hinton of Columbus spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelley Hinton.

Two members of the Confirmation Class of 1964 represented Logan Elm High School and received honors on District and

and people on the sidewalks listened with interest.

From loudspeakers, came a roar of cheering and an account of an out-of-town game of the Tbilisi soccer team. It lost 1-0. "This hurt us very much," said a young man with big sad eyes.

Soccer is the main form of combat now for the people of Tbilisi, capital of a region of the Soviet Union with a violent history of wars and invasions.

This region—a long green valley reaching east from the Black Sea between the two folds of the Caucasian Mountains—is Georgia. Its history began some 2,000 years before a part of the New World was given the same name to honor an English king.

The 4.5 million people of this Georgia have been called the Texans of the Soviet Union. They talk a bit bigger, act a bit bolder, and seem a bit wealthier than their Russian comrades.

They also are noted as one of the most enterprising of the peoples under communism's theoretically equalizing sway.

Fruit and other fresh produce from this lush southern land somehow manage to be sold at handsome private profits in distant Soviet cities, despite the lack of a legal private trade network. Such scarce consumer goods as cars somehow are more abundant here than elsewhere in the car-starved Soviet Union.

This follows an old Georgian habit of adapting to stronger outside forces and sometimes dominating them. Joseph V. Stalin was a Georgian.

These mountains were on the frontier of the ancient Greek and Roman worlds. They were far enough from the centers of power to be controlled only sporadically but near enough to develop an alphabet for the Georgian language many centuries before Russian was written.

Georgian towns were built around hilltop forts and Christian churches with simple round cupola tops. Tbilisi grew up where a fortress rose over the Kura River and in the sixth century became the capital of Georgia.

The name Tbilisi means "warm" in Georgian, from warm sulphuric springs here. The Russian version of Tiflis was used for a time, but Tbilisi has been restored.

State scholarship tests recently, Nadine Hinton won sixth place in the district and honorable mention in the State in World History. Connie Jones, received third place in the district and 11th in the State in French 11.

many other countries. An Associated Press survey shows these highlights:

In Italy, which has a long, complex list of grounds for exemption and deferment, the son or brother of someone killed in a war cannot be drafted. The oldest or only grandson of someone with no unmarried children also is draft exempt, as is the oldest son in a family of seven or more children.

France grants an exemption if a member of the potential draftee's family was killed in the service of the nation.

Exemption or deferment because of service by other members of a man's family is allowed in several countries. In the Netherlands, if two sons have been drafted, all others in a family are exempt.

In Italy, if two brothers are called up, one may ask for a delay in his induction until the brother has completed his service.

One of the toughest draft laws is in Iraq, which has been waging a costly antiguerrilla war against Kurdish tribes men in its northern provinces for several years. Iraq's emergency regulations, passed in March, require service of anyone 18-50 who has not been in the armed forces before, including students. Deferments are granted only to persons sent abroad on government missions.

Common-Law Wife Held in Fatal Shooting

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The common-law wife of a hotel owner was in jail today awaiting a coroner's ruling in the fatal shooting Wednesday night of her husband.

Police said the woman told them that she accidentally shot her husband, William Duke Burney, 55, as she was showing him how to shoot a .22-caliber rifle.

countries that does not defer students. Draftees train only on Sundays, when students are not in class. Exemptions are granted only for physical disabilities.

The Soviet Union drafts youths 20 years old.

The Soviet Union drafts youths 17-18 who have finished high school and those 19 regardless of whether they have finished.

College students receive military training during the school year and also spend periods in training after their second and fourth years. After they graduate from college, most enroll in the Officers' Reserve and are subject to call in national emergencies. But some college graduates are called into service immediately, usually those with engineering or other technical specialties.

All men in Red China are subject to the draft at 18. Those who enter the army serve three years. The term of service in the air force is four years and in the navy five years.

Citizens of Soviet Georgia Talk and Act Like Texans

TBILISI, South Georgia (AP)—The noise up and down the tree-lined streets in the center of Tbilisi was almost deafening.

Saltcreek Valley

Pastor Glenn Isernhagen will serve the Lutheran Parish for the next few weeks and Dr. Doermann will serve in Dr. Zietlow's place next winter.

Dick Reichelderfer and Danny, Dorothy and Ronnie left Saturday for a two-week vacation in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Aldenderfer of Plymouth, Mich., spent the weekend with his sisters, Mrs. Helen A. Strous, Mrs. Lucille Kohler and Miss Mabel Aldenderfer.

A large crowd attended the Saltcreek 8th grade commencement at the School last Thursday evening. Orations were given by Diane Luckhart, Vicki Fraunfelter and Lynette Justice.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones and Louise and Cindy were Sunday evening supper guests of the "Valley Home Farm" folks. The Max Luckharts and the David Luckharts also were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones and Connie and Jeff were among relatives of the Macklin families attending a picnic Sunday at the George Macklin home near Laurelville.

Max Luckhart took the 8th graders to the "Holiday Inn" in Chillicothe for supper last Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Drake and Mr. Straight accompanied them.

Peggy Cooper spent Thursday night and Friday with Diane Luckhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bryant and Roxan and Carol of Washington C. H., were the Sunday guests of the Max Luckharts.

Tania, Marlon and Krystal Luckhart spent several days with their grandparents.

Miss Miriam Hinton of Columbus spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelley Hinton.

Two members of the Confirmation Class of 1964 represented Logan Elm High School and received honors on District and

and people on the sidewalks listened with interest.

From loudspeakers came a roar of cheering and an account of an out-of-town game of the Tbilisi soccer team. It lost 1-0.

"This hurt us very much," said a young man with big sad eyes.

Soccer is the main form of combat now for the people of Tbilisi, capital of a region of the Soviet Union with a violent history of wars and invasions.

This region—a long green valley reaching east from the Black Sea between the two folds of the Caucasian Mountains—is Georgia. Its history began some 2,000 years before a part of the New World was given the same name to honor an English king.

The 4.5 million people of this Georgia have been called the Texans of the Soviet Union. They talk a bit bigger, act a bit bolder, and seem a bit wealthier than their Russian comrades.

They also are noted as one of the most enterprising of the peoples under communism's theoretically equalizing sway.

Fruit and other fresh produce from this lush southern land somehow manage to be sold at handsome private profits in distant Soviet cities, despite the lack of a legal private trade network. Such scarce consumer goods as cars somehow are more abundant here than elsewhere in the car-starved Soviet Union.

This follows an old Georgian habit of adapting to stronger outside forces and sometimes dominating them. Joseph V. Stalin was a Georgian.

These mountains were on the frontier of the ancient Greek and Roman worlds. They were far enough from the centers of power to be controlled only sporadically but near enough to develop an alphabet for the Georgian language many centuries before Russian was written.

Georgian towns were built around hilltop forts and Christian churches with simple round cupola tops. Tbilisi grew up where a fortress rose over the Kura River and in the sixth century became the capital of Georgia.

The name Tbilisi means "warm" in Georgian, from warm sulphur springs here. The Russian version of Tiflis was used for a time, but Tbilisi has been restored.

State scholarship tests recently, Nadine Hinton won sixth place in the district and honorable mention in the State in World History. Connie Jones, received third place in the district and 11th in the State in French 11.

Military Draft Is Worldwide Problem

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Compulsory military service in one form or another is commonplace around the world. Britain, Canada and Japan are among the few nations that do not have it.

The questions of who is drafted, who is deferred and who is exempt are major issues in U.S. debate. These also are issues in many other countries. An Associated Press survey shows these highlights:

In Italy, which has a long, complex list of grounds for exemption and deferment, the son or brother of someone killed in a war cannot be drafted. The oldest or only grandson of someone with no unmarried children also is draft exempt, as is the oldest son in a family of seven or more children.

France grants an exemption if a member of the potential draftee's family was killed in the service of the nation. Exemption or deferment because of service by other members of a man's family is allowed in several countries. In the Netherlands, if two sons have been drafted, all others in a family are exempt.

In Italy, if two brothers are called up, one may ask for a delay in his induction until the brother has completed his service.

One of the toughest draft laws is in Iraq, which has been waging a costly guerrilla war against Kurdish tribes men in its northern provinces for several years. Iraq's emergency regulations, passed in March, require service of anyone 18-50 who has not been in the armed forces before, including students. Deferments are granted only to persons sent abroad on government missions.

Mexico is one of the rare countries that does not defer students. Draftees train only on Sundays, when students are not in class. Exemptions are granted only for physical disabilities.

The Soviet Union drafts youths 20 years old. The Soviet Union drafts youths 17-18 who have finished high school and those 19 regardless of whether they have finished.

College students receive military training during the school year and also spend periods in training after their second and fourth years. After they graduate from college, most enroll in the Officers' Reserve and are subject to call in national emergencies. But some college graduates are called into service immediately, usually those with engineering or other technical specialties.

All men in Red China are subject to the draft at 18. Those who enter the army serve three years. The term of service in the air force is four years and in the navy five years.

Common-Law Wife Held in Fatal Shooting

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The common-law wife of a hotel owner was in jail today awaiting a coroner's ruling in the fatal shooting Wednesday night of her husband.

Police said the woman told them that she accidentally shot her husband, William Duke Burney, 55, as she was showing him how to shoot a .22-

Garden Gossip

I once knew a family whose house burned down. Months later they were still talking about the fire. In fact the mother finally made a rule that there was to be no more conversation about the fire.

Well, I'm the same way about the May 10 freeze. Somebody will have to make a rule for me that there's to be no more talk on the subject.

However, several flower shows have been called off because of the damage the freeze created. The big Columbus Rose show has been cancelled. It had been scheduled for June 5. This was its 25th year. The Rose Show at Kingwood Center the second week of June has also been cancelled. The flower show sponsored by the Federated Clubs of Fairfield County which was to have been held June 3 has been cancelled.

Postmaster Charlie Walters says it is the first time within his memory that asparagus has frozen. But things are bouncing back.

Our own iris have been damaged cruelly. Flower stalks in some cases are only about nine inches high and the buds are blasted and dried up.

Carl Mader, 146 Pinckney St., however, had such an excellent specimen of white iris that the yard man, Brownie, told him it surpassed any that his mother, Mrs. Henry Mader had. Mrs. Henry Mader's iris are a legacy of her mother, the late Mrs. Ella Hornbeck, one of Circleville's finest gardeners.

We later learned that Carl Mader's iris had been in his grandmother's collection.

Mrs. Henry Mader lives at 141 Pinckney St. Her iris are glorious. But the average iris garden took a trouncing.

Miss Hazel Marie Williams, Whisler, has the granddaddy of all snow ball bushes. It is at least 20 feet high and a good 12 feet in diameter. In the past the Japanese viburnum was much beloved for its greenish white flowers in May and for its autumn coloring.

It has lost its popularity because of leaf curl. This can be checked with a good spraying of Malathion when leaves begin to form and before they start curling. It's the aphids that make them curl.

Another shrub subject to aphids is spirea Van Houetti. This beautiful and graceful plant is more or less out of fashion now. We believe that malathion could check aphids on it too. Aphids appear after the blossoming time. The John Eshelmanns have incorporated this spirea in their shrub planting most effectively.

Walter Parker, Whisler, has had a tree peony for several years . . . about five years he figures. He recommends the Chinese tree peony as a most satisfactory plant.

Mrs. Henry Mader has Chinese tree peony in her Pinckney St. garden. Hers has lavender blossoms which are single.

Frances Beery, 137 Pinckney St., also had a Chinese tree peony.

One of the most endearing spring flowers is the French anemone. A single flower with a dark center it comes in glorious shades of pink, red purple and orchid. It was used as the focal area in one of the arrangements at the Monrovia Garden Club Show recently.

Planted in the fall, anemones sometimes do not weather our Ohio winters. But the bulbs are inexpensive and it's worth a try.

Mrs. William Defenbaugh, Atwater Ave., is back from a vacation on an island off the coast of Texas. She sent me pressed specimens of several different wild flowers, none of which I recognized. Gwen said that wild flowers all through the south were fabulously beautiful, and Texas wild flowers most beautiful of all. She stayed on the beach at Padre Island. Yes, the bluebonnets were blooming, but everything else, too. Cacti blossoms were heavenly. Gailardias are wild flowers there.

Mrs. Defenbaugh said there were whole fields of wild flowers. Now if I were a stranger to wild mustard and visited in Ohio I would think it was an elegant plant.

Wilbur Pontius, Pickaway Twp. farmer, remembers when wild mustard did not take over the fields as it does today. His dad, the late Turney Pontius, used to keep the kids home from school to pick wild mustard out of the fields. The boys accompanied a wagon and loaded as they pulled the plants. Wilbur says it's no wonder he has a weak back now.

I recollect when we first moved to Salt Creek Twp. we were cautioned by neighbors to pull wild mustard so it would not get a start. Well, we pulled, but it got a start anyway.

Mrs. Tom Wagner, Sunnyview Drive, has a rhododendron with about 10 blooms. The plant is 3-years-old and has bloomed three times. It formerly grew to the north of the house where it got no sun. She moved it to the northeast and it now gets the morning sun. Mrs. Wagner fed her plant with azalea food last year. She believes this was good for it.

Mrs. Fred Minshall, Pickaway Twp., was reared in West Virginia. She comes by her love of rhododendron naturally enough. Her plant has about six flowers this year.

Lynn Fraunfelter, is taking up gardening as her 4-H club project. She is a loner so to speak and the only 4-H member in her township with a gardening project. We remember the years Polly Miller had a whole flock of 4-H flower gardeners and we remember their fabulous accomplishments.

Mrs. Wallace Higgins, E. Main St., says her red peony is in blossom. Early red peonies shatter easily, but they are very lovely.

Speaking of red peonies, we once had a neighbor, Mrs. Polly Kerns, who had red peonies, early purple iris and yellow roses all blooming together. The month of May never comes but that we remember Mrs. Kerns and that trilogy of color.

Mrs. R. R. Bales, E. Main St., and the garden editor took the time to count the number of blossoms on one of her large Chinese tree peonies. We gave up when the count grew to 82. Both of us figured that each peony had at least 100 or more blossoms, all about four to six inches in diameter.

LATE APPLE TREE — The Joe Stump family will have apples this fall. Most apple trees were in full blossom when the May 10 frost came along. But this one bloomed about 13 days later. However, the Stumps say the apples don't amount to much as far as flavor is concerned. They are small and sweet. Mrs. Stump, pictured here with her daughter Betty and her son Joey, says they call it a cider apple tree.

Mary Knight Will Compete As Decade's Best Arranger

Ohio flower arrangers will be cheering for Mrs. John W. Knight Jr. who will represent their state June 22 at the Sterling Bowl Tournament held annually at the Jackson and Perkins Rose Garden, Newark, N. Y.

The event this year will be for winners of the past 10 years who will compete against each other for the title "Best Flower Arranger of the Decade."

During the history of the tournament more than 600 of the nation's top flight flower arrangers have been nominated by state presidents of the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

Among these 214 have competed in the tournament at the 17-acre Jackson and Perkins Rose Garden.

SIX OTHER winners will pit their skills against Ohio's Mary Knight who won first place in 1958. The $5,000 perpetual challenge silver trophy for which the tournament is named will be awarded the winner. She may keep it for one year.

Others competing are: Mrs. C. W. Lafe of Pittsburgh, Pa., 1957; Mrs. John W. Minton of Roswell, N. Mex., 1960; Mrs. Orrion Kattmann of Evansville, Ind., 1961; John C. Dowling, Jr., of Gaffney, S. C., 1962; Mrs. E. O. Barton of Houston, Tex., 1964; Mrs. Floyd Doty of Walter, Okla., 1965.

A part of the 35th annual Rose Festival, June 18-26, the Tournament will take place in the Rose House beginning at 7 a.m. Judging begins at 11 a.m. Afterwards the rose arrangements will be on public display until 9 p.m.

Each of the contestants will receive a piece of sterling silver from the Sterling Silversmiths Guild of America, a co-sponsor, and Sterling

Rose Entries Outstanding; 4 Win AARS Title for '67

Rosarians are going to have to make room for four new roses. The All - America Selections for 1967 include two new floribundas, one hybrid tea and one grandiflora.

The floribundas selected for this tribute are "Gay Princess" whose originator is the well known rose breeder and floribunda specialist E. S. Boerner, and "Roman Holiday" by the young hybridizing genius (48-years-old) Robert V. Linquist.

Dr. Walter E. Lammerts, originator of several AARS winners hit the jackpot again with a hybrid tea, "Bewitched." Dr. David L. Armstrong co-originator with Herbert C. Swim of "Lucky Lady" has been responsible for many popular roses.

THIS is the fourth time in 28 years that the AARS has granted four awards in one year. The candidate roses were exceptional this year.

Boerner's "Gay Princess" bears masses of soft shell pink roses from spring until fall. This rose is bushy and medium tall. It is said to be a large flowered floribunda.

"Gay Princess" has an excellent ancestry. It is a seedling of "Spartan," "Farmers Wife" and "Queen Elizabeth" are two of its other noble forbears.

"Roman Holiday" is a brilliant orange red large flowered floribunda. It is a cross between a seedling of "Independence" and "Circus." It is a low bushy plant. Flowers are fully double with from 25 to 30 petals.

Dr. Lammerts' "Bewitched" has elegantly formed flowers that are five and six inches in diameter. The color is a pure phlox - pink with no hint of magenta. Roses are borne singly on one stem. Petals number 35 to 40.

The plant is vigorous, tall and compact. Foliage is medium green and holly - like. "Bewitched" has nobility in its ancestry. "Queen Elizabeth" is a parent.

"LUCKY LADY" is a typical grandiflora, some of its blossoms are in clusters but oftentimes roses are borne on long strong, single stems.

"Lucky Lady's" color is a light clear pink on the face of the petal and a deeper color suffused with red on the reverse side. It is a bi-color. The plant is shapely and its foliage excellent. Parents of this Armstrong-Swim origination are Charlotte

Garden Gossip

I once knew a family whose house burned down. Months later they were still talking about the fire. In fact the mother finally made a rule that there was to be no more conversation about the fire.

Well, I'm the same way about the May 10 freeze. Somebody will have to make a rule for me that there's to be no more talk on the subject.

However, several flower shows have been called off because of the damage the freeze created. The big Columbus Rose show has been cancelled. It had been scheduled for June 5. This was its 25th year. The Rose Show at Kingwood Center the second week of June has also been cancelled. The flower show sponsored by the Federated Clubs of Fairfield County which was to have been held June 3 has been cancelled.

Postmaster Charlie Walters says it is the first time within his memory that asparagus has frozen. But things are bouncing back.

Our own iris have been damaged cruelly. Flower stalks in some cases are only about nine inches high and the buds are blasted and dried up.

Carl Mader, 146 Pinckney St., however, had such an excellent specimen of white iris that the yard man, Brownie, told him it surpassed any that his mother, Mrs. Henry Mader had. Mrs. Henry Mader's iris are a legacy of her mother, the late Mrs. Ella Hornbeck, one of Circleville's finest gardeners.

We later learned that Carl Mader's iris had been in his grandmother's collection.

Mrs. Henry Mader lives at 141 Pinckney St. Her iris are glorious. But the average iris garden took a trouncing.

Miss Hazel Marie Williams, Whisler, has the granddaddy of all snow ball bushes. It is at least 20 feet high and a good 12 feet in diameter. In the past the Japanese viburnum was much beloved for its greenish white flowers in May and for its autumn coloring.

It has lost its popularity because of leaf curl. This can be checked with a good spraying of Malathion when leaves begin to form and before they start curling. It's the aphids that make them curl.

Another shrub subject to aphids is spirea Van Houttei. This beautiful and graceful plant is more or less out of fashion now. We believe that malathion could check aphids on it too. Aphids appear after the blossoming time. The John Eschelmans have incorporated this spirea in their shrub planting most effectively.

Walter Parker, Whisler, has had a tree peony for several years . . . about five years he figures. He recommends the Chinese tree peony as a most satisfactory plant.

Mrs. Henry Mader has Chinese tree peony in her Pinckney St. garden. Hers has lavender blossoms which are single.

Frances Beery, 137 Pinckney St., also had a Chinese tree peony.

One of the most endearing spring flowers is the French anemone. A single flower with a dark center it comes in glorious shades of pink, red purple and orchid. It was used as the focal area in one of the arrangements at the Monrovia Garden Club Show recently.

Planted in the fall, anemones sometimes do not weather our Ohio winters. But the bulbs are inexpensive and it's worth a try.

Mrs. William Defenbaugh, Atwater Ave., is back from a vacation on an island off the coast of Texas. She sent me pressed specimens of several different wild flowers, none of which I recognized. Gwen said that wild flowers all through the south were fabulously beautiful, and Texas wild flowers most beautiful of all. She stayed on the beach at Padre Island. Yes, the bluebonnets were blooming, but everything else, too. Cacti blossoms were heavenly. Gail-lardias are wild flowers there.

Mrs. Defenbaugh said there were whole fields of wild flowers. Now if I were a stranger to wild mustard and visited in Ohio I would think it was an elegant plant.

Wilbur Pontius, Pickaway Twp. farmer, remembers when wild mustard did not take over the fields as it does today. His dad, the late Turner Pontius, used to keep the kids home from school to pick wild mustard out of the fields. The boys accompanied a wagon and loaded as they pulled the plants. Wilbur says it's no wonder he has a weak back now.

I recollect when we first moved to Saltercreek Twp. we were cautioned by neighbors to pull wild mustard so it would not get a start. Well, we pulled, but it got a start anyway.

Mrs. Tom Wagner, Sunnyview Drive, has a rhododendron with about 10 blooms. The plant is 3 years old and has bloomed three times. It formerly grew to the north of the house where it got no sun. She moved it to the northeast and it now gets the morning sun. Mrs. Wagner fed her plant with azalea food last year. She believes this was good for it.

Mrs. Fred Minshall, Pickaway Twp., was reared in West Virginia. She comes by her love of rhododendron naturally enough. Her plant has about six flowers this year.

Lynn Fraunfelter, is taking up gardening as her 4-H club project. She is a loner so to speak and the only 4-H member in her township with a gardening project. We remember the years Polly Miller had a whole flock of 4-H flower gardeners and we remember their fabulous accomplishments.

Mrs. Wallace Higgins, E. Main St., says her red peony is in blossom. Early red peonies shatter easily, but they are very lovely.

Speaking of red peonies, we once had a neighbor, Mrs. Polly Kerns, who had red peonies, early purple iris and yellow roses all blooming together. The month of May never comes but that we remember Mrs. Kerns and that trilogy of color.

Mrs. R. R. Bales, E. Main St., and the garden editor took the time to count the number of blossoms on one of her large Chinese tree peonies. We gave up when the count grew to 82. Both of us figured that each peony had at least 100 or more blossoms, all about four to six inches in diameter.

LATE APPLE TREE — The Joe Stump family will have apples this fall. Most apple trees were in full blossom when the May 10 frost came along. But this one bloomed about 13 days later. However, the Stumps say the apples don't amount to much as far as flavor is concerned. They are small and sweet. Mrs. Stump, pictured here with her daughter Betty and her son Joey, says they call it a cider apple tree.

Mary Knight Will Compete As Decade's Best Arranger

Ohio flower arrangers will be cheering for Mrs. John W. Knight Jr. who will represent their state June 22 at the Sterling Bowl Tournament held annually at the Jackson and Perkins Rose Garden, Newark, N. Y.

The event this year will be for winners of the past 10 years who will compete against each other for the title "Best Flower Arranger of the Decade."

During the history of the tournament more than 600 of the nation's top flight flower arrangers have been nominated by state presidents of the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

Among these 214 have competed in the tournament at the 17-acre Jackson and Perkins Rose Garden.

SIX OTHER winners will pit their skills against Ohio's Mary Knight who won first place in 1958. The $5,000 perpetual challenge silver trophy for which the tournament is named will be awarded the winner. She may keep it for one year.

Others competing are: Mrs. C. W. Lafe of Pittsburgh, Pa., 1957; Mrs. John W. Minton of Roswell, N. Mex., 1960; Mrs. Orrion Kattmann of Evansville, Ind., 1961; John C. Dowling, Jr., of Gaffney, S. C., 1962; Mrs. E. O. Barton of Houston, Tex., 1964; Mrs. Floyd Doty of Walters, Okla., 1965.

A part of the 35th annual Rose Festival, June 18-26, the Tournament will take place in the Rose House beginning at 7 a.m. Judging begins at 11 a.m. Afterwards the rose arrangements will be on public display until 9 p.m.

Each of the contestants will receive a piece of sterling silver from the Sterling Silversmiths Guild of America, a co-sponsor, and Sterling

Rose Entries Outstanding; 4 Win AARS Title for '67

Rosarians are going to have to make room for four new roses. The All - America Selections for 1967 include two new floribundas, one hybrid tea and one grandiflora.

The floribundas selected for this tribute are "Gay Princess" whose originator is the well known rose breeder and floribunda specialist E. S. Boerner, and "Roman Holiday" by the young hybridizing genius (48-years-old) Robert V. Linquist.

Dr. Walter E. Lammerts, originator of several AARS winners hit the jackpot again with a hybrid tea, "Bewitched."

Dr. David L. Armstrong co-originator with Herbert C. Swin of "Lucky Lady" has been responsible for many popular roses.

THIS is the fourth time in 28 years that the AARS has granted four awards in one year. The candidate roses were exceptional this year.

Boerner's "Gay Princess" bears masses of soft shell pink roses from spring until fall. This rose is bushy and medium tall. It is said to be a large flowered floribunda.

"Gay Princess" has an excellent ancestry. It is a seedling of "Spartan," "Farmers Wife" and "Queen Elizabeth" are two of its other noble forbears.

"Roman Holiday" is a brilliant orange red large flowered floribunda. It is a cross between a seedling of "Independence" and "Circus." It is a low bushy plant. Flowers are fully double with from 25 to 30 petals.

Dr. Lammerts' "Bewitched" has elegantly formed flowers that are five and six inches in diameter. The color is a pure phlox - pink with no hint of magenta. Roses are borne singly on one stem. Petals number 35 to 40.

The plant is vigorous, tall and compact. Foliage is medium green and holly - like. "Bewitched" has nobility in its ancestry. "Queen Elizabeth" is a parent.

"LUCKY LADY" is a typical grandiflora, some of its blossoms are in clusters but oftentimes roses are borne on long strong, single stems.

"Lucky Lady's" color is a light clear pink on the face of the petal and a deeper color suffused with red on the reverse side. It is a bi-color. The plant is shapely and its foliage excellent. Parents of this Armstrong-Swin origination are Charlotte

Clipped Pine Stumps Local Nurserymen

Mrs. Emmitt Barnhart had local nurserymen wondering about a strange short needed pine which they failed to identify.

She found a branch of this pine in a bucket of flowers which she had brought home from a recent flower show.

Mrs. Barnhart had taken a fancy to the pine and decided she wanted it for her yard. She has recently taken a course in Japanese flower arranging and had decided that the pine would be good material.

What the nurserymen could not identify the garden editor could! It was from her own yard. She identified it as Austrian pine. This pine has needles that are about six inches long.

For flower show work the garden editor had lopped off the pine needles to about two inches. Somehow the branch found its way into the Barnhart bucket. Small wonder the nurserymen were unable to identify the species.

ACTUALLY there are about 100 varieties of pine offered by nurserymen to home gardeners.

The pines offer great ornamental beauty. In general, they require a sizeable area in which to grow, since most species grow to considerable size.

For quick results, pines are often favored. They grow to fair size in a comparatively few years. White pines, for example, grow a foot or more each year. Not all pines are fast growing, however. The Bricecone pine grows only a few inches a year.

Foliage colors of the pines range from bluish to deep green. Needles range from about two inches in length, up to a foot or more for the Long-leaf Pine of the south.

Pines of the north and central states include the White Pine, the most widely planted of all species. Red Pine, named for its reddish bark; Korean Pine, slow - growing; Scotch Pine, growing with open branches, and several forms, some columnar; Black Pine, prized for its ability to withstand salt water spray and therefore excellent to plant along the seashore; and Austrian Pine, which is fast-growing.

3 Ohio Collegians End Pressurized Suit Testing

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Three college students who wore fully pressurized space suits for five days have set a "first" in space research at Wright-Patterson Air Force base near here.

The bearded young men participated in the test at the Aerospace Medical Research Laboratories.

The record took place during a 90-day experiment designed to test physiological and nutritional food requirements for future manned space flights and emergency food concepts for man on the moon.

The longest previous continuous run in a fully-pressurized suit was for 24 hours.

Col. Raymond Yerg, one of the directors of the project, said Apollo and Gemini space suits were worn fully-pressurized during two five-day periods during the last 20 days of the studies.

The test was conducted for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

William C. Dobbins, 23, of Cleveland, a student at Central State, was the first to go 120 hours fully pressurized in a suit.

He was followed by George F. Gunkelman, 21, of Rt. 6, Medina, a junior at Ohio State University and David R. Klems, 23, a history major at the University of Cincinnati.

David P. Spaccarelli, 22, student at Xavier University, participated in the experiment but was forced to withdraw because of an ill-fitting pressure suit. Samuel J. Rice, 23, of Hamilton, a physiological monitor for the Miami Valley Hospital Research Department, substituted for Spaccarelli.

At various intervals, the men ate emergency diets of 900 calories per day either from tooth-paste like squeeze tubes or rods of chocolate flavored food pushed through a metal "straw" into the opening in the helmet visor.

Officials said research objectives were to determine the acceptability of two 900 - calorie diets and select the better of the two; determine the effects of pressurized suits fitted with liquid and solid waste collection devices; evaluate personal hygiene and human factors in waste management and assess the capabilities of men to maintain normal health patterns under different environmental conditions.

OSU Students Set For Summer Camp

Two Ohio State University cadets from the Mt. Sterling area will attend Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Indiantown Gap, Pa., beginning June 18.

The OSU students are Joseph A. Seeley, 21, Route 1, and Daniel E. Fryer, 20, Route 3.

During the six-week encampment, they will receive advanced training in the military subjects they have been studying at school.

Cadets are trained in various subjects which will provide them with skills necessary for military command. On completion of the ROTC program, graduates may receive commissions as second lieutenants and may choose any branch of the Army.

OSU Students Set For Summer Camp

Two Ohio State University cadets from the Mt. Sterling area will attend Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Indiantown Gap, Pa., beginning June 18.

The OSU students are Joseph A. Seeley, 21, Route 1, and Daniel E. Fryer, 20, Route 3.

During the six-week encampment, they will receive advanced training in the military subjects they have been studying at school.

Cadets are trained in various subjects which will provide them with skills necessary for military command. On completion of the ROTC program, graduates may receive commissions as second lieutenants and may choose any branch of the Army.

Kelly Boyer To Supervise Youth Baseball Program

Kelly Boyer, Circleville school system faculty member, has been named supervisor of this year's Circleville Youth Baseball Program.

Boyer was introduced to managers and members of the board of directors Wednesday night during a special session for program personnel.

Reserve basketball mentor at CHS, Boyer replaces David LaBounty, program director last year. LaBounty resigned the position after accepting a job with private industry.

Boyer's duties include the care and maintenance of diamonds, assignment of umpires for all games, issue and collection of umpire equipment and baseballs for each game.

ON SATURDAY and Sunday, the backstops at the newest diamonds at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds will be wired. Managers as well as members of

Podres Posts Second Win For Detroit

Ex-Dodger Finds New Home with Tigers in AL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's taken two months — and two leagues — but Johnny Podres finally has pitched nine innings.

Podres, acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers last month, continued his strong pitching for Detroit Wednesday night as he posted his second straight victory with 3 1-3 innings of one-hit relief work in the Tigers' 9-4 triumph over Minnesota.

The 33-year-old left-hander now has made six appearances for the Tigers and allowed only four hits and two runs while running his work for the season to nine innings. Over the first month he had pitched only 1 2-3 innings for the Dodgers.

And he didn't like it.

"I just want to go somewhere where I can pitch," Podres said when he was traded. "I threw the ball good all spring and my arm feels good now. But you get out of shape pitching 1 2-3 innings in a month."

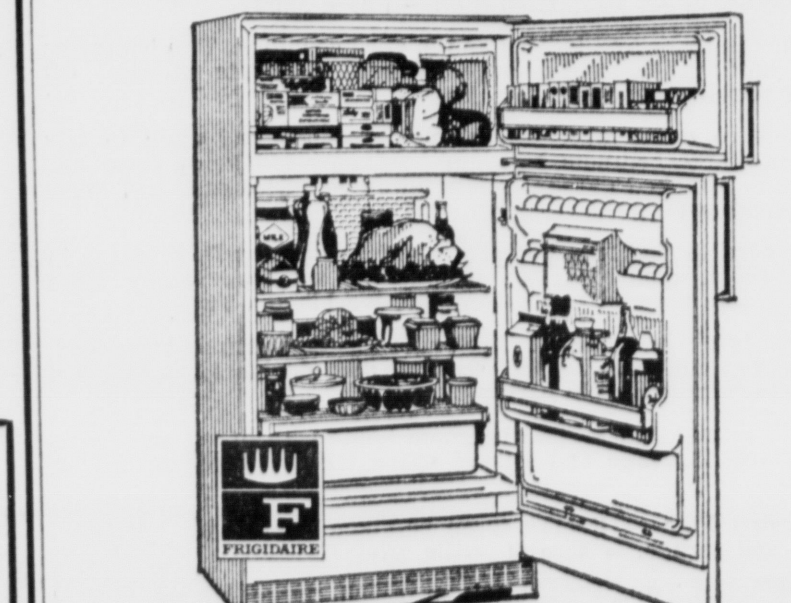

Podres, who has been plagued the last two years by arm trouble, figured as a starter with the Dodgers during the Sandy Koufax-Don Drysdale holdout siege but became expendable when the Dodgers axes signed. The Tigers grabbed him for cash and a player to be named later.

Against the Twins, Podres came on in the fourth inning with two men on and two out. He walked Jim Hall, but bore down and got Tony Oliva on a grounder to first. He allowed only a single by Harmon Killebrew before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Elsewhere, Baltimore outlasted California 9-7 in 10 innings, Kansas City walloped Cleveland 8-3, the Chicago White Sox downed the New York Yankees 6-2 and Washington whipped Boston 6-3 before the Red Sox took the night cap 5-0.

In the National League, San Francisco edged Atlanta 4-3, Pittsburgh defeated the New York Mets 3-1, the Los Angeles Dodgers shut out St. Louis 1-0, Houston blanked Cincinnati 2-0 and Philadelphia swept the Chicago Cubs 4-3 and 7-4.

Ohio Track Classic Is Due June 11

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An outstanding field of scholastic runners and jumpers has been chosen to compete in the third annual Ohio Classic Meet June 11.

The prestige-packed track and field event, which caps the high school season, will be staged at Toledo Maumee's all-weather track.

The 15-event program gets underway with field events at 12:30 p.m. (EST) and is run off in clocklike precision. There are no preliminaries, all events are finals.

Participants in the meet were selected over the weekend by the board of directors of the Ohio Track Coaches Association, which sponsors the Classic.

The coaches automatically selected Class AA and A winners in the state championship last Saturday and filled in the rest of the field on the basis of consistency of performance.

There will be eight performers in each running event, except the two-mile run. Twelve athletes will vie for honors in each field event.

Individual standouts to watch are Phil Gary of Dayton Roth, Dave Rimmer of Mt. Healthy and Dick Roski of Cleveland Heights. There are a flock of others, too.

Gary, the only double winner in the state meet with victories in the shot put and discus, established an all-time Ohio school boy mark in the discus last Saturday with a toss of 185 feet, 7 1/2 inches.

Cardenas' Clutch Hits Help Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Leo Cardenas' fielding is taken for granted. But now the little shortstop is earning a lot of respect as a clutch hitter for the Cincinnati Reds.

Leo is not a Willie Mays at the plate, but opposing pitchers have learned not to take him too lightly. And Cardenas is not awed in facing the likes of Juan Marichal or Sandy Koufax.

Tuesday night, for example, Cardenas blasted two home runs off Marichal, spoiling the San Francisco star right-hander's bid for a third shutout and ending his string of 30 scoreless innings.

"That Cardenas, he hits me every time," complained Marichal. "I have to start something new for him."

Right-handed or left-handed, makes no difference to Leo. He also homered off Koufax the only time the Reds faced the Los Angeles Dodgers' ace southpaw this season.

"I don't care whether the pitcher is left-handed or right-handed," says Leo. "I have no batting plan. I just hit away."

One of Leo's memorable home runs came on Aug. 19, 1965. He clouted a 10th inning round-tripper off Larry Jackson to give Jim Maloney a 4-0, no-hit victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Nancy Richey Aims At Tennis Title

PARIS (AP) — Nancy Richey, the determined little 23-year-old star from Texas, has cleared another hurdle in her bid to win the women's singles title in the French International Tennis Tournament.

Miss Richey's major roadblock is just ahead, though, because her opponent in the semifinals will be Margaret Smith of Australia, the tournament favorite.

The Dallas girl, coholder of the No. 1 ranking in the United States, beat Annette Van Zyl of South Africa 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 and Miss Smith, the Wimbledon champion, eliminated Julie Heldman of New York 6-2, 6-2 in quarter-final matches Wednesday.

And Roski turned in a brilliant 9:29.9 in the two-mile, the best ever in that event.

Other state recordholders entered include Jim Rehmer of Willoughby South, who sped the 880 in 1:54.6; Dale Walker of Bellbrook, who owns back-to-back triumphs in the high jump and leaped 6-6 Saturday and yard relay quartet, which raced to a state record with a 1:28.2 performance.

Glennville, which swept its second straight AA championship, has nine individuals and its 880-relay team entered.

Another participant is Columbus East speedster Solomon Espie, the Class AA 100 victor the last two years, who also will go in the 220.

Apportioning Plan Studied

Ohio AFL-CIO Seeks Voter Test

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio AFL-CIO is on record in favor of putting an "equitable apportionment plan" before Ohio voters.

The nearly 2,200 delegates to the labor organization's three-day biennial convention opening here Wednesday unanimously approved a resolution demanding that the legislature put such a plan on the 1967 fall ballot.

The resolution also called on the General Assembly to re-shape Ohio congressional districts so that they are near equal in population and to place on the ballot a constitutional guarantee provision containing suitable safeguards against future congressional district gerrymandering.

Ohio labor should be ready to take action if the legislature fails to act, the resolution said. It was reported that this action would be to get the issue before the voters through a referendum.

Delegates also approved a resolution calling for a cost-of-living escalator clause in state welfare payments.

The resolution said welfare payments currently are only about 70 per cent of the minimum standards for decency and health as set in 1959 and asked that they be geared to 100 per cent standards at a 1966 level with annual cost-of-living increases.

State Sen. Frank King of Toledo is expected to be re-elected president of the Ohio AFL-CIO Friday. He has held the $16,000-a-year post since 1964 and also is the Democratic leader in the Ohio Senate.

Election of officers, including 24 vice presidents, will end the convention Friday.

NFO Urges Utilization of Market Plan

The meat bargaining committee of the Pickaway County National Farmers Organization has urged all members to continue selling livestock under NFO marketing arrangements.

The committee was one of three making reports during the May meeting of the local NFO chapter.

The grain committee reported on the volume sales of grain made during the past two months. Spokesmen announced a new grain sales agreement will be prepared soon.

The membership committee reported 15 new members were added to the Pickaway Chapter roster since the first of the year. According to the report, state and national membership is showing a continued growth.

The local chapter was told the NFO inspired write in protesting recent statements of President Johnson and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman "jolted Washington D.C."

Robert Barnes, vice president of the organization, acted as presiding officer in the absence of Tom Conrad, county president.

The next meeting is slated 8:30 p. m. June 21 in the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building.

7 Seniors Honored at GE Plant

Seven Pickaway County high school seniors were honored this week at General Electric's Circleville Lamp plant.

The students were guests for a luncheon and plant tour in honor of their winning Steinmetz Awards for outstanding achievement in science and math.

The seven award winners are Daryl Reichelderfer, Logan Elm; Barbara Butt and James Ridenour, Teays Valley; Carolyn Bailey and Mike Clark, Westfall; and Susan Butz and Bill Brock, Circleville.

They were presented their awards at honor assemblies held recently at the four high schools. Members of General Electric's engineering staff presented the Steinmetz citations.

EACH award consists of a bronze medallion mounted on a wooden plaque, commemorating Charles Proteus Steinmetz, the brilliant GEGG scientist and inventor.

This is the second year the awards have been given to honor seniors who are outstanding in the fields of science or math.

It's likely that her film making will be centered here.

"Hollywood doesn't know what to do with me," she explained. "I'm not the girl-next-door type; I don't look a bit like Natalie Wood. So I don't fit into the kind of movies they make in Hollywood."

"I'm not anti-Hollywood by any means; I just have to go where the work is."

Indeed she is. Born in Chicago and reared in La Jolla, Calif., she was a Hollywood deb star just a couple of years ago. But her exotic looks and Spanish name — she is of Spanish-French - German - English - Scottish descent — make Europeans believe she is one of them.

Raquel is now appearing in "The Biggest Bundle of Them All" with Vittorio DeSica, Edward G. Robinson, Robert Wagner and Godfrey Cambridge. She is living in a villa near Rome, and there she expounded on the amazing turns in her career.

She made one starring film in Hollywood last year, the unreleased science-fiction film "Fantastic Voyage." Perhaps because she was clothed in a space suit, she attracted no great notice.

The avalanche began when Raquel went to England and the Canary Islands to star in "One Million B.C." Her striking appearance in a skimpy prehistoric costume attracted wide approval. Raquel was delighted to supply other poses.

"I wouldn't have been able to do the same thing in Hollywood," she commented. "There they worry about showing the navel and cleavage."

Raquel has enough film offers to extend her stay in Europe another two or three years, and

Apportioning Plan Studied

Ohio AFL-CIO

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio AFL-CIO is on record in favor of putting an "equitable apportionment plan" before Ohio voters.
